CHINA AND JAPAN IN BAD MOOD MAY GO TO WAR

Collision of Troops in Korea Has Created a Bad Situation.

Seoul, Oct. 15.—Serious complications affecting the peace of China and Japan threaten as the result of an engagement between Chinese and Japanese troops in Kantalo, northern Korea, in which several were killed or wounded. The refusal of the Chinese war office to permit the pursuit of a detachment of soldiers who are said to have been the aggressors may result in the crossing of the frontier by Japanese troops.

Chinese soldiery are reported to have opened hostilities by firing upon a police station occupied by the Japanese troops, who were sent into Kantalo as a guard for the Koreans resident there. The fight that ensued lasted several hours and while the exact number of casualties is not obtainable, there were a number killed or wounded. The commander of the Japanese garrison immediately called upon China for permission to cross the frontier into Chinese territory and pursue the assailants, who appear to have been worsted in the engagement. The request was refused by the war office.

The Japanese foreign office has made representations to the government at Pekin and the situation is beginning to assume a serious aspect. It is intimated that unless China takes prompt action satisfactory to the Japanese government, the latter may take the initiative and cross the frontier in order to afford protection to the Koreans.

BRYAN OR TAFT FOR PRESIDENT OF WORLD

Secretary of Peace League Says Roosevelt May Not be the Choice.

New York, Oct. 15.—The reported declaration by Rev. Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the International Reform bureau, in Boston recently, that within a few years, Theodore Roosevelt would be "President of the world" has called forth a letter to Dr. Crafts from William O. McDowell, acting executive of the League of Peace, asking that the Reform bureau co-operate with the league in its work of bringing about the selection of a world executive.

Mr. McDowell's letter says in part:

"The time has come and plans are well under way for the election of an executive with the title of "The Peace Maker" by the electoral congress composed of the "Intellectual" leaders of the world, something like 100,000 voters.

"I note your advocacy of Theodore Roosevelt as the next elected head of the executive department or as you designate it 'President of the World.' So far as I can judge, the members of the electoral college in determining their ballot, will doubtless look to America, but you must remember that the United States has no monopoly of the great peace workers of the world. In the writer's opinion the vote cast for citizens of the United States will be divided between Andrew Carnegie, Theodore Roosevelt and the defeated candidate for the presidency of the United States, whether it shall be Mr. Bryan or Mr. Taft."

FLEET IS NEARING JAPAN AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

People of Empire Keyed Up to High Pitch and All Ready to Welcome.

Tokio, Oct. 15.—The American battleship fleet, somewhat in advance of its schedule, has been sighted by the Japanese war vessels sent to convey a friendly greeting, and a wireless message received two hours ago reports that Admiral Sperry, his officers and the enlisted men were at the moment witnessing the maneuvers of the Japanese vessels off the island of Kiushu in southeastern Japan.

The news that the American fleet was off Kiushu was received here by wireless telegraphy. The Connecticut, the flagship of Admiral Sperry, had taken a position to one side and was witnessing the maneuvers.

The war ships are described as all being in splendid condition.

It was not expected that the American vessels would be sighted thus early and the Japanese public do not yet know that they are off the coast. The fleet will make its official entry in Yokohama harbor Saturday morning.

At 8 o'clock this morning it was reported that the gunboat Yankton, preceding the American battleship fleet, had been sighted by Japanese war vessels off the coast. The Yankton is expected to arrive during the morning.

All Japan is astir in anticipation of the arrival of the American battleship fleet. Yokohama and Tokio in particular are given over to enthusiastic preparation.

The decorations in these cities are so extensive and general as to be remarkable, not only in Japan, but in any country of the world that awaited a naval call by the fleet of another power. All the Japanese newspapers of prominence are printing editions in English, with lengthy editorials assuring the American officers and sailors of a hearty welcome by the nation.

Every available vessel in the harbor of Yokohama has been chartered to convey excursionists to meet the warships on their appearance.

A considerable fleet will venture far out at sea in order to extend the first welcome.

TAFT COMPLETES A TOUR OF WEST VIRGINIA

Nominee Then Invades Kentucky for Long Schedule of Speeches.

Ashland, Ky., Oct. 15.—"Marching through Georgia" played by a brass band summoned Judge Taft to duty this morning at Huntington, the first stop of the Taft special for the day and the last effort of West Virginia.

Although not informed in advance, the candidate lent himself to the plans of the local commitee and was taken through the town to a large rink, which was crowded with people, though it was before 8 o'clock.

"I thought I had seen all the republicans in West Virginia last night," genially began the candidate, "but it seems the supply is exhaustless."

Mr. Taft talked of the policy of protection, said it had been the makingof West Virginia and had put the state in the republican column as permanently as Pennsylvania and Ohio.

The Taft special train travels on a direct line west of Louisville today. The itinerary calls for ten speeches by the candidate including Huntington, Ashland, Olive Hill, Morehead, Salt Lick, Mount Sterling, Winchester, Lexington, Frankfort, Shelbyville and Louisville, all but the first being in Kentucky.

At Judge Taft's request Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan will accompany the candidate on his entire southern trip, and will also be one of the speakers at the Madison Square meeting in New York.

The thousands of people who gathered at the station at this place were enthusiastic and responsive to the highest degree. When the candidate appeared on the rear platform and declared that "The people of Ashland ought to pray for the continuance of the republican party in power," a mighty roar went up. "We will."

After the brief talk of the candidate on protection Senator Smith spoke and addressed his audience in the form of questions, to which the crowd responded as he desired in mighty shouts. Senator Wm. O. Bradley, who joined the train, also spoke and was warmly received.

GOT ANYTHING THAT WILL FLY? GET IN GAME

Big Free for All Race on November 3 for All Sorts of Aerial Craft.

New York, Oct. 15.—The first free-for-all five-mile sailing race through the "aerial ocean" by dirigible balloons and flights by all kinds of air craft regardless of the scientific names by which experts may know them will be held on the afternoon of election day, November 3, from the grounds of the Aeronautic society at Morris park.

Prof. W. H. Pickering, of Harvard university, has presented a wind wagon—a form of conveyance almost unknown here, but which has been used abroad for some time with considerable success—to the society. A wind wagon is a frame on wheels with the motor geared to one or more air propellers instead of to the wheels. The propellers, turning rapidly in the air, supply the driving power. There will be a race by wind wagons, the first ever held.

Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin, Roy Knabenshue, Capt. Bombaugh, Carl E. Myers, Charles K. Hamilton, Charles J. Stroebel and Col. Gribble have been invited to compete with their dirigible balloons.

FIVE HURT, TWO ARE DYING, IN BRAWL IN SALOON

Loafer Falls from Chair, Hurts Nose and Then Murder Begins.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 15.—As a result of a saloon fight which occurred last evening, two men are dying and three are badly injured.

While sleeping in a chair in B. Notik's saloon Joe Jomoski fell off his chair and bumped his nose. He thought some one had hit him and knocked him down.

Crazed with the idea Jomoski drew a razor and tried to kill six men who were in the saloon.

Anton Lasker had his throat cut and Jomoski was hit on the head with a beer bottle and his skull fractured. These two are at St. Margaret's hospital and will die.

In trying to escape from the saloon F. Federoff fired his revolver at Notik, the saloon-keeper, and was badly beaten up. Notik was cut by Jomoski about the head and ears and Joe Lassak sustained a scalp wound six inches long.

A special rehearsal of the Concordia Lutheran church choir will be held this evening under the direction of M. Pohlman.

A TANK CAR FILLED WITH GASOLEEN EXPLODES

Six Persons Badly Burned and Others Injured in Amherst, Ohio.

Amherst, O., Oct. 15.—Six persons were badly burned and others were less seriously injured here late last night when a tank car filled with gasolene on the Lake Shore railroad exploded, following a wreck.

The injured:

Fire Chief, John Einwachter, Sebastian Stolz, on-looker; Herman Kahl, fireman; A. J. Hamel, fireman; William Hagen, high school student; and William Kuss, on-looker.

A crowd of fifty persons were caught up and hurled down a twenty-foot bank next to the tracks.

The tank car was in the center of a west-bound freight train. A hot box caused the derailing of another car in the train. The two cars immediately behind it were telescoped. The persons who were injured by the explosion had gathered to see the firemen extinguish the small blaze which caught from the hot box. The Lake Shore tracks were entirely blocked for several hours.

Democratic Treasurer Ridder Gives Out First Public Statement.

New York, Oct. 15.—The democratic national committee, through treasurer Herman Ridder, this morning gave out an extended statement of the contributions to the democratic national campaign fund up to and including October 9, showing sums of and over $100. The statement also shows receipts and disbursements as follows:

Received from contributors, under $100	115,355 22
Amount left over from Denver convention fund	42,500 00
Total	$248,567 55
Amount disbursed	225,962 88
Balance on hand	$ 22,604 67

The statement, which is signed by National Chairman Mack and Treasurer Ridder, says that 343 subscribers gave $100 or more and that the smaller sums were from 25 cents up. It adds:

"The number of contributors to the national committee fund is estimated at about fifty thousand people and about $100,000 of the whole amount contributed came from the democratic newspapers throughout the United States.

STATE DAY OF THE CONVENTION OF BAPTISTS

Baptist Brotherhood Meeting is Feature—Will Banquet Tonight.

Throughout the day several delegates of the Baptist Brotherhood have arrived in the city for the splendid observance of State day, which is being celebrated at the Baptist state convention. There are several features which tend to make the day the largest of the convention, besides one of great interest to all participating. A mass meeting this evening, together with an elaborate banquet at Saengerbund hall, will be the occasion of a splendid gathering of the Brotherhood, though other men of the Baptist denomination are permitted to attend the meeting which follows.

Today is, so to speak, the field day of the Indiana Baptist Brotherhood and from all sections of the state have they gathered to do honor to the occasion. A special interurban car from Indianapolis brought in a large number from that city and vicinity. Delegations have arrived from Lafayette, Logansport, Peru, Bluffton and other points, while incoming trains and interurbans late this afternoon will add to the quota already here. The banquet will be held at 6:30 o'clock and the entire evening following the banquet will be devoted to a discussion of Baptist work within the state. At the same time at the First Baptist church a great meeting in the interest of the state mission work will be held in charge of the woman's committee for state missions, but will not be exclusively for ladies; it will be an open meeting for any one to attend.

REV. S. C. FULMER,

Representative of the American Baptist Home Missionary Society for the Middle West.

The Morning Session.

Rev. J. C. Provert opened the session this morning with devotional service. The first order of business was the report of the committee on systematic beneficence, which was presented by Rev. P. L. Powell, of Franklin, Ind. Following his report Rev. Charles A. Cooke, of Bloomfield, N. J., national secretary of Systematic Beneficence, delivered an address. Dr. Cooke spoke first of the relationship between stewardship and the forward movement in missions. He urged upon the pastors the necessity for a vigorous campaign in behalf of systematic beneficence in all of their churches. Sunday, November 15th, has been set aside for this purpose.

The second item of business of the forenoon session was the presentation of the report of the state mission board concerning the state work contained in the report. During the year Rev. W. B. Pope has been elected superintendent of missions, succeeding Rev. A. A. Ogle, who resigned after twenty years of service. Twenty-three churches have received aid and eight of these have become self-supporting. The board has assisted in the erection of several new churches and has kept in the field a large force of missionaries, together with four evangelists.

It is proposed during the coming year to greatly increase the staff of evangelists. Attention will be given the weaker churches and an effort made to group them in such a way that they can be provided with regular services. A vigorous appeal is to be made to the churches for increased contributions that the state work may be greatly enlarged during the coming year.

The work of the state mission board is supplemented by the woman's managing committee for state missions and this committee also presented a report for the year. A special committee appointed by convention to consider these reports in advance brought in a series of recommendations. The chief matters

GREAT CROWD WILL HEAR SOUTHERN STATESMAN

John Sharp Williams to Come From Plymouth This Evening.

Coming from Plymouth, where he spoke this afternoon, Hon. John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, will reach Fort Wayne early this evening for his address at Princess rink. A committee will receive Mr. Williams when he arrives at 7:30 o'clock over the Pennsylvania railroad, and during his stay in Fort Wayne he will be the guest of Senator S. B. Fleming.

Elaborate arrangements have been made in preparation for Mr. Williams' appearance at Princess rink, and it is certain that a great audience will hear him. An invitation has been extended to all workingmen, whether members of organized labor or not, to be present. With Mr. Gompers will be President Edgar A. MAYOR CLAMPS ON LID AND TAKES CHARGE

Closing of the Gambling Houses and Saloons His Work

Mayor W. J. Hosey is himself at the head of the movement to clamp down the lid on the saloons that insist upon disobeying the closing law and in addition the raid on the gambling houses a few nights ago was a personally conducted affair, and so far as can be ascertained, was out of the ordinary in that the chief executive conceived the idea and gave out no tips so that the gamblers could prepare for the police invasion by removing all expensive outfits and allowing only attaches and regular habitues to be captured.

The Sentinel's information that the raids were of the character that have been heretofore pulled off and intended solely for the purpose of collecting a license fee was all wrong.

This movement has extended to the all-night saloons and resulted in the appearance of Arthur Mosshammer and Harry Wiebke in police court today, where they were charged with selling liquor at unlawful hours.

A continuance was secured for a week by Mr. Wiebke, who was the spokesman. Mosshammer is a bar tender and the license is carried in his name for the reason that at the time it was taken out there were two convictions against Will Wiebke, in whose name the place had been formerly conducted, and a remonstrance was regarded as a possibility. Captain Kelly, who made a raid on the place

GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE REACH AN AGREEMENT

Are Together on Plans to End Difficulties in the Balkans.

London, Oct. 15.—Great Britain, Russia and France have reached an agreement on a program to be submitted to the other powers as a basis for discussion by the proposed European conference to settle the Balkan situation.

The proposals to be laid before the powers are eight in number.

The first is to the effect that articles 1 to 22 of the treaty of Berlin, which relate to Bulgaria and eastern Rumelia, shall be replaced by stipulations recognizing the independence of Bulgaria as at present constituted, and determining the financial obligations of Bulgaria toward Turkey. New clauses probably will settle also the question of the Oriental railway.

The second and third proposals are that the powers shall take note of the annexation by Austria-Hungary of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the return of the anjak of Novipazar to Turkey.

Gives Crete to Greece.

The fourth article relates to Crete. It replaces article 23 of the treaty of Berlin by clauses recognizing the annexation of Crete to Greece and determining the financial obligations of Greece in respect to Crete, toward Turkey. It is understood that the four powers under whose protection Crete has been—Russia, Great Britain, France and Italy—will settle the Cretan question in concert with Turkey before referring it to the conference. It is proposed also that the second part of article 23 of the Berlin treaty, which provides special regulations for the government of other parts of European Turkey, shall cease to have force when the powers are assured that a satisfactory settlement has been effected.

The fifth proposal is to the effect that arrangements similar to the above shall apply to the Armenian provinces of Turkey.

The sixth article deals with Montenegro. The Montenegrin rights of sovereignty are limited by article 29 of the treaty of Berlin. It is proposed that articles 26 to 33 inclusive of the Berlin treaty shall be condensed to a single article abrogating all the restrictions imposed by the treaty under the original article 29 which it is proposed to sweep away.

Other Vital Points.

The seventh point in the program is the statement that it is desirable to seek and give compensation to Servia and Montenegro by a rectification of the Bosnian and Herzegovinan frontiers adjoining Novipazar. This is taken to imply that a strip will be taken from the territory annexed by Austria-Hungary.

MORE BALLOONIST'S FALL INTO THE NORTH SEA

Last of Missing Air Craft is Found and Her Crew Rescued.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—The German balloon Busley came down yesterday morning at 5 o'clock in the North sea. The two men on board were rescued by a passing steamer.

This news was received in a telegram from Edinburgh and caused the greatest relief, for there was great anxiety regarding the fate of this airship. The Busley is one of the twenty-three balloons that started in the race for the international trophy last Sunday from a suburb of Berlin, and now every one of the contestants has been accounted for. There are still, however, two ballons missing. These are the Plauen and Hergezell, which started on Monday in the endurance test.

The dispatch received by the Aero club, from Edinburgh, says that the Busley early yesterday morning got into communication with a coaling steamer bound for Edingurgh at a point in the North sea to the northwest of Heligoland. The steamer signaled that she would stand by. The aeronauts then opened their safety valve with the idea of bringing the balloon down. In the meantime the steamer had launched a small boat to pick up the two men.

Rescued With Difficulty.

The balloon fell into the sea and was driven by a strong wind away from the steamer. Then men in the boat finally managed to get a line fast to the car. They hung on until the two aeronauts had been rescued. The transfer of the balloonists to the small boat was attended with the greatest difficulty. As soon as they were safe on board, the connecting line was cut and the balloon went careening away over the sea.

The aeronauts were half naked and utterly exhausted. They were taken back to the steamer, where they received every attention and were given food and restoratives. The men rescued from the Busley are Dr. Niemeyer and Hans Hiedemann. They landed at Edinburgh this morning and immediately started for home by way of London. The point where they were picked up is ten miles from Heligoland.

While the news of the rescue of the two balloonists from the Busley was heartily welcomed, the most serious apprehension are entertained for the safety of the other two airships. It is now three full days since the Plauen and the Hergezell have been heard from.

Exhaustive meteorological observations indicate that they were driven out over the North Sea. The German admiralty is conducting a thorough search of this body of water.

HICKOX MUST SERVE TERM FOR THEFT OF AUTO

Draws from One to Fourteen Years in the Reformatory.

Harvey Hickox, charged with stealing Robert T. DeWald's big automobile from in front of the Temple theater a few weeks ago, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of grand larceny in the circuit court today and was sentenced to from one to fourteen years in the reformatory at Jeffersonville.

His case was continued a week ago to give him a chance to fight a civil case he has in the superior court but that was continued yesterday for a month and the criminal hearing was called this morning as it had been set down for trial.

Hickox wept all through the proceeding and said after sentence was passed that the sooner he went to Jeffersonville the better it would suit him. Judge O'Rurke said in passing sentence that he would like to have the privilege of suspending it but as there are other charges against the prisoner he would be immediately arrested again and the suspension would do no good. Hickox is twenty years old and has for several years been connected with the various garages and bicycle establishments about the city.

Curt Notes.

The divorce case of Raymond W. Clark against Anna Clark was taken up in the superior court this afternoon for additional evidence.

Christ Stalder, who was committed for thirty days two weeks ago for "bool-legging" at Grabill, was released from jail today on a suspended sentence. He had served half of his term and the judge let him go to husk corn in Cedar Creek township.

MAYOR CLAMPS ON LID AND TAKES CHARGE.

Tuesday night, made another last night and found that liquor was being sold in the rooms above the Hof Brau and the present affidavit will be followed, he said, by another charging a violation of the blind tiger law.

The Germania was also visited and the captain announced that he will file an affidavit against Dan Clemons, charging him with selling liquor at unlawful hours. A few minutes after 11 o'clock last night the captain visited the Germania and found the bar closed. About an hour later he was in the place and found customers in the restaurant with beer glasses in front of them. He seized a partly filled stein in front of a man seated at the table and took it with him as evidence.

Captain Kelly stated also that he went to Ed Kleindinst's place after he had finished at the Germania and the Hof Brau, but was told the proprietor had gone home at midnight. The doors were locked and he heard no noise that would indicate the presence of customers inside and he did not attempt a raid.

Mayor on Outside.

The night of the raids on Kleindinst and Gierhart & Swift's gambling houses the mayor went to the station had Captain Kelly located and instructed him to look after the gambling houses. The failure to capture anything but poker players and cards and chips is probably due to the fact that all of the other paraphernalia had been stored in anticipation of a visit.

This expectancy grew out of the closing of A. B. Jackson's place and the subsequent removal of his gambling outfit from the building he formerly occupied. The mayor was across the street from each of the places, according to reliable information, and was stirred to action by the fact that some of the saloonkeepers are inclined to take special privileges.

Several saloons are so arranged that they can sell liquor after midnight and they have been doing it. Those who have only one room in which to do business have been observing the closing hour and are suffering from the fact that two or three others refuse to obey the law.

GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE REACH AN AGREEMENT.

The eighth proposal concerns the River Danube and declares that it is desirable to revise the regulations governing Danube traffic so as to give larger rights to the states bordering on the river.

The eight articles of the program are followed by a declaration that as the new Ottoman constitution foreshadows a reorganization of the judicial system and a remodeling of Turkish legislation in conformity with the principles of other European states, the powers are prepared to consider in concert with Turkey, so soon as these reforms are realized, the best means of doing away with capitulations. It is declared also that this occasion could be taken to consider the abolition of the postoffices now maintained by foreign powers in Turkey.

The draft of this program makes no mention of the straits between the Black sea and the Mediterranean, which, of course, mean the Bosphorus as well as the Dardanelles. But these straits have been a subject of protracted discussion between Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister, and M. Iswolsky, the Russian minister of foreign affairs.

M. Iswolsky does not ask that this question be submitted to the conference. What we desire is that France and Great Britain help Russia to negotiate with Turkey for the opening of these straits to Russia.

DISAGREEABLE IMPRESSION.

Sofia, Oct. 15.—A disagreeable impression has been produced in diplomatic circles here by a circular note issued oday from the Bulgarian ministry of justice, which orders that in the future the subjects of foreign powers in Bulgaria shall be treated on the same basis as natives; in other words, they are no longer to enjoy the intermediary of their consuls. The circular sets forth that the declaration of Bulgarian independence on October 5th has annulled the so-called capitulations which exempted foreigners from the jurisdicion of the local courts.

The diplomatic representative of one of the great powers today described this circular as a "high handed action" which the powers would vigorously oppose. This tendency of Bulgaria to extricate herself from treaty obligations in ways that are not popular, he added, will lead the powers to insist upon the retention of the capitulations for a definite period as one of the conditions to the recognition of Bulgarian independence.

CUBS RETURN TO HOME TOWN.

World's Champions Warmly Greeted by the Fans.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Exultant over their victory in winning the world's championship, the Chicago team of the National league arrived home from Detroit early today and was met at the station by an enthusiastic crowd. The players, who were accompanied by some of the members of the national commission, reported having met with ovations wherever the train stopped on the way home. When the train pulled into the station here a mob of base ball enthusiasts rushed through the gates and carried a "Welcome Home" to the individual players. Some of the players announced their intention of preparing for fishing and hunting trips, although they are scheduled for an exhibition game to be played here with the Detroit team on Sunday. In this game the players will appear as individuals and not as clubs.

The paving of Columbia avenue and the sewer between Euclid avenue and Savannah street, from Antionette to Mercer, have been completed and will be reported at the meeting.

OLD ACT NOT HURT BY THE BLANKET REMONSTRANCE

Still Possible to Remonstrate Against Individual Licensee.

Indianapolis, Oct. 15.—In affirming a decision refusing George W. Nichols a license to keep a saloon at Berne, in Adams county, the appellate court today declared that the Moore law, which provides for filing "blanket remonstrances," did not repeal nor affect the law previously in force permitting the voters of a township to remonstrate against a particular applicant.

The names of a majority of the voters in his township were signed to a remonstrance against Nichols by a man to whom the voters had given powers of attorney before the Moore law took effect in 1905. Nichols insisted that new powers of attorney were necessary under the new law, but the court says that all the principal provisions of the old law are retained unchanged in the new law and must be treated as having been continuously in force.

STILL CONSIDERING BILLS.

City Officials Went Into Conference Again This Afternoon.

The city officials held another conference beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon to consider the bills for extras at the municipal lighting plant. No difficulty is anticipated in arriving at a settlement with the P-K Engineering company as it simply rests on a reasonable price for extra work that was found necessary.

There is wide difference on the McBride bill and some trouble is anticipated in bringing about a settlement with the concern.

Several hundred farmers had gathered at Endicott, some of them driving more than fifteen miles to hear the candidate speak, but five minutes. Danderine

GROWS HAIR
PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:
"As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

Ben Allen, the Fremont young man who was fearfully burned in an attempt to kindle a fire with coal oil Sunday evening, died Tuesday night as a result of his injuries.

Mrs. Israel Yaney, of Kirkland township, Adams county, was thrown from her buggy in a runaway accident and sustained a broken arm. Her husband and little child, who were driving with her, were painfully bruised.

Within ten minutes after she had been granted a divorce at Plymouth Tuesday, Mrs. Edith E. Brockus, of Bourbon, was united in marriage to Clyde Kittinger, of Elyria, O., where they will reside.

Byron Beemas, 70 years of age, pleaded guilty to the charge of horse stealing at Goshen and received a sentence of from one to fourteen years in the Michigan City prison. Beemas has operated under several names, been in prison in four different states and admits that horse-stealing is a disease with him.

The last saloon in Waterloo closed its doors Thursday by the expiration of license, the remonstrance law operating against a renewal. It is the first time Waterloo has been without a saloon since 1856, when the first one was started there by John Wood, during the building of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad through the town.

In the circuit court at Huntington a few days ago there came up a motion on a case that was originally at issue in that court in the March term, 1842. It was a foreclosure matter, and the motion set forth that whereas the property had been sold in 1850 under the mortgage, the latter had never been cancelled on the record. Judge Cook ordered the cancellation of the mortgage.

There are indications that the "Lake Shore gang," which committed so many depredations along the line of that road in Northern Indiana some years ago, has come to life again. Two desperate men boarded the express cars on an east bound train at Goshen Tuesday night with the evident intent of robbery. They got on between the express cars and made their way into a car through the end door before the express messengers noticed them. They put up a hard fight and were determined not to be driven from the car. The messengers were compelled to beat the hold-ups over the heads with their revolvers, and finally got them outside the car. However the robbers stayed with the train until it reached Ligonier, when they jumped from the train and ran to one side, firing a shot into the car through the door, but fortunately the shot did no damage.

"I suffered untold misery from female troubles. My doctor said an operation was the only chance I had, and I dreaded it almost as much as death.

"One day I read how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it. Before I had taken the first bottle I was better, and now I am entirely cured.

"Every woman suffering with any female trouble should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

CAN EAT WHAT YOU WANT WHEN YOU WANT IT WITHOUT MISERY

Give Your Stomach a Good Eat Without Fear of Indigestion.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of Stomach trouble, why don't you keep a case of Diapepsin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and regulate a sour Stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily see why they cure Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and prevent at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eructations of sour undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation and other Stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from Indigestion with the common every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer.

This is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which will putrefy in the entire digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapepsin.

One candy-like Triangule, taken after eating, will promptly digest all your food, the same as a strong, healthy stomach would do it.

CALLED CHILDREN FROM SCHOOL IN ORDER TO KILL THEM

A Father Crazed by Land Frauds is Prompted to Murder.

Macon, Mo., Oct. 15.—D. Oscar Seaman, a farmer, who killed one of his young sons, dangerously wounded another, and committed suicide Tuesday, is believed to have been temporarily insane from worry over fraudulent land deals.

It is said that County Attorney Duncan will abandon the investigation of Seaman's land transactions. Seaman left no statement. The Seaman home recently was built at a cost of $4,000. Those who know say the domestic relations of the family were pleasant.

Jose Bradley, a banker of Gifford said he was called to pass on some deeds on which Seaman had asked a loan, and, that Seaman did not own the property upon which he sought the money, and that the deeds he tendered were fraudulent. Bradley said he also discovered that several deeds on which Seaman had obtained loans were on farms in the neighborhood where Seaman lived.

Seaman made no attempt to harm his wife. On Tuesday afternoon he went to the district school house and asked the teacher to excuse his sons, 9 and 11 years old. He took the boys home, called Tressie, his 7 year old daughter, told her to kiss her mother good by, and then led all the children to the barn.

There Seaman showed a revolver and told the boys they were to die, but that Tressie was to live. With that announcement he shot the youngest boy through the heart, killing him instantly. Seaman then shot the other boy, inflicting a dangerous wound. Then Seaman killed himself.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the delicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

THE MAYOR'S CRUSADE.

This newspaper has very trustworthy unofficial information that the crusade against lawlessness in this city is under the personal direction of Mayor Hosey. The raids on gambling houses a few nights since were planned by the mayor and personally conducted by him. The uncommon vigilance of the police in enforcing the 11 o'clock law is due to specific instructions from the mayor to the superiors in the department. Mr. Hosey, it is said, has declared he will now show the saloonists who break the laws that he is the master and will demonstrate to the people of Fort Wayne that the town can be closed tight at times when the law prescribes it shall be closed.

We trust the mayor will continue his crusade and that it will be made as effective as the broad powers with which his office is invested can make it. The police department will obey his mandates without question. All that the men of the force want to know is that the orders are unequivocal, that they must be executed without modification or exception. The force for the most part is all right; it must be directed.

Mayor Hosey has been tardy getting to this reform. However, having got the municipal lighting plant in successful operation and wrought important improvements in the city waterworks system, he has a clear field to deal with the moral problems of his administration. Mayor Hosey is a capable and resolute man. If he has determined that the laws shall be observed in this city, there is no other side to the question. His authority is ample and his means sufficient.

JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS.

The people of Fort Wayne will have tonight the privilege of hearing one of the country's ablest statesmen and democrats an opportunity to pay a tribute of honor to one of the most eminent and brilliant of their leaders. Hon. John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, occupies a place of great exaltation in the esteem of his party and commands the respect and admiration of all men not too warped by prejudice to appreciate great abilities and brilliant and diverse talents, by whomsoever possessed. As leader of the democrats in the national house of representatives for many years Mr. Williams has occupied a position that in point of its conspicuousness is second only to the speakership. He is a most resourceful leader and an orator of many graces and scholarly attainments. Like all men with singularly gifted natures Mr. Williams is immensely popular and nowhere more than among his colleagues of the opposite side in the house of representatives. He is United States senator-elect from Mississippi and will take his seat in March, 1911. The interim between the end of his present term and the beginning of his senatorial term he will spend in foreign travel.

Walter Wellman, who is an interesting and reliable if not an altogether infallible political seer, after nosing around Ohio in search of prophetic odors of the campaign, concludes that Mr. Taft will have a not easy time to carry the home bailiwick next month. Mr. Wellman finds that defections of the negro vote from the republicans and the resentment felt by Senator Foraker's large personal following are the complicating factors in the situation. He regards Ohio as one of the very doubtful states. This is important, if true, and interesting, anyhow. To consider Ohio doubtful is to concede many possibilities to Mr. Bryan.

There is one thing about Detroit that is to be admired. If she isn't the gamest supporter of a champion ball team, she is at least philosophical enough to get ready for the worst as soon as it is in sight. The way that town can stand the gripe of grief is something to make men halt and wonder, but scarcely to feel sad. It is an altogether fine thing to be happy for what you can get and satisfied with what you've got.

Japan and America may come to blows someday, but the little brown folks are going to have it to boast that they first gave American jackies the time of their lives. The preparations to receive the officers and men of the big battleship fleet are most lavish and planned with the one purpose, to wholly eclipse the fleet's reception by any other country.

Mayor Hosey appears to have got a most excellent idea of a lid and how to adjust it. Late getting to it, but here's hoping his way is clear and his mind fixed on enforcing a decent sort of respect for his own authority and the laws of the state and the city.

Turkey is sitting mighty still in the boat these days while the powers are preparing to adjust her troubles. Very pleasant to have some one to do your hard thinking and fretting for you.

CAN PLEDGE MR. ECKHART.

Editor of The Sentinel: Since the church people and especially the Methodists are making such frantic efforts to defeat Mr. Cannon for re-election to congress, because he smothered the Littlefield bill, as speaker, it might be in order to have Mr. Gilhams tell us how he would stand as to electing Uncle Joe speaker if he is returned as a member of congress and it would not be out of place for both him and Mr. Cline to inform the dear people as to whether they would support a bill similar to the Littlefield bill or not.

I am prepared to pledge Charles Eckhart, the prohibition candidate, if elected, to vote against Cannon, and for any act proposed against the liquor traffic.

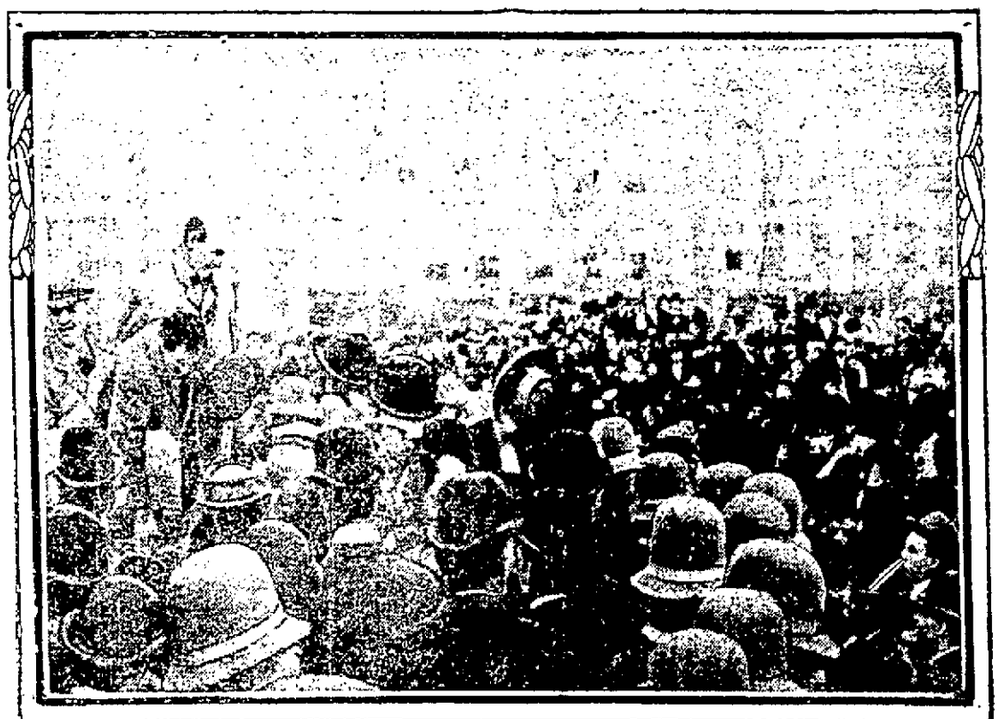
Eugene V. Debs Addressing Open Air Meeting in New York City



EUGENE V. DEBS ADDRESSING AN OPEN AIR MEETING AT HAMILTON FISH PARK.

New York, Oct. 15.—Eugene V. Debs, socialist nominee for president, made a whirlwind trip through the east side, in which he made two brief addresses, one in Hamilton Fish park and the other in Rutgers square.

Many of the auditors in the vast throng could not understand what Mr. Debs said, yet a light was in their eyes which showed that they believed they were looking on the man who could make the rough journey of life smoother. When the nominee was not speaking the cheering was continuous, punctuated by the almost constant playing of the Marsellaise by the "Red Special Band."

When Mr. Debs arrived the band struck up the Marsellaise, and a cheer broke from the five thousand simultaneously. Mr. Debs was pushed forward to a stepladder, and it took the best efforts of Inspectors Russel and Burfeind with a hundred police to keep the crowd from surging forward and overwhelming him.

The cheering lasted for about fifteen minutes, and when the orator started to speak he looked very ill. His voice was so hoarse that it was seen that a formal address was out of the question and his talk was more of the nature of a greeting.

"It is impossible for me, comrades and fellow citizens," he said, "after scattering most of my voice across the entire continent, to make myself heard across this vast concourse of people. I only bring you a greeting.

"The registration has fallen off tremendously in this district. This indicates the inability of corrupt politicians to register the floating voters. Hilliquit is going to be elected to congress from this district. The big socialist vote in the Eighth district is going to make politicians of the older school realize that socialism is a burning issue. The results, when announced on November 4, will surprise the world."

OLD SOLDIER IS FOUND GUILTY AND SENT UP FOR LIFE

Inmate of Marion Veterans' Home Convicted of Slaying a Comrade.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 15.—William Dreisman, 62 years old, a civil war veteran, must spend the remainder of his life in prison for having murdered George W. Reep, another old soldier. After deliberating six hours the jury last evening found Dreisman guilty of second degree murder. The defendant showed no emotion. He has no known relatives and during the trial he sat alone with his attorneys.

The sentence depriving Dreisman of his liberty was returned one month after the murder. Dreisman shot Reep in the back with a revolver. The shooting took place near the soldiers' home, of which both men were inmates, in the presence of several persons.

Reep died within four days. Following his arrest Dreisman boasted that he acted with premeditation. He said Reep, while captain of his barrack at the home eight years ago, had reprimanded him and struck him on the head. He then determined he would avenge the wrong and had waited an opportunity to kill Reep.

In the trial the attorneys for the defense sought to prove that Dreisman was insane when he committed the crime. The theory of the defense was that Dreisman had become insane as the result of the injury inflicted on him by Reep eight years ago, and while insane he killed the man who was responsible for his condition. A number of the prisoner's comrades testified that Dreisman had acted queerly after he had been struck by Reep.

GEO. A. H. SHIDELER TO SPEAK IN FT. WAYNE TONIGHT

Former Warden of Michigan City to Talk to Presbyterian Men's Club.

At the first of the fall meetings of the Men's club at the First Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock this evening, George A. H. Shideler, of Marion, Ind., will address the members on "Prison Reform." The speaker has been prominently identified with national prison reform work and in movements of the national board of charities and corrections. He was warden of the Michigan City prison at a time when many reforms were inaugurated and put into effect and is therefore thoroughly conversant upon the subject he will so interestingly treat of tonight. A large attendance of the members of the club is desired and after the evening's address, the usual refreshments will be served.

Mr. Shideler is one of the best known men in Indiana. He has been prominent in the councils and activities of the republican party of Indiana, and has more than once been considered as an extremely available candidate for the governorship, though he has never entered actively into a canvass with that distinction in view. He is a pleasing and forcible speaker.

Y. W. C. A. Membership Contest.

The closing hours of the membership contest in the Young Woman's Christian association are marked by increased activity. The captains, Miss Margaret Vesey, of the Red Rose division, and Miss Anna Philley, of the White Rose division, are marshalling their lieutenants for the final skirmish. Many members are working for new enlistments. The contest closes at midnight tonight. As the count stands this afternoon, the Red Rose has secured seventy-two new members and the White Rose sixty-three, with a promise of five to be received today. The Y. W. C. A. is making most commendable progress and the present contest promises to add materially to the membership. Miss Mary Johnson has arrived in the city and assumed the duties of secretary at the Y. W. C. A., succeeding Miss Mary Todd, who is now secretary for the association at Flint, Mich. Miss Johnson taught literature for several years at the Decatur High school and for some time past has assisted in parish work in various cities with marked success.

Many Attend Arcola Fair.

Fort Wayneites who attended the annual fall festival of St. Patrick's church at Arcola last night numbered about one hundred and fifty-three. It was "Fort Wayne night" and the excursion was a thoroughly enjoyable affair. Many of the party attending were parishioners from St. Patrick's cola pastor, Rev. Edward Mungovan, cola pasor, Rev. Edward Mungovan, was formerly assistant. A bountiful chicken supper was served the visitors upon their arrival and a fine social program arranged for their entertainment. The three nights' fair will close this evening. The attendance this year was unusually large and the festival promises to be in every respect a great success.

"County Option Law" was the theme of an interesting talk given on Wednesday evening by Attorney Arthur Parry before a meeting of the Men's club of Trinity Episcopal church. The meeting was held in the parish house and was well attended. The speaker dwelt primarily on the prohibition wave that is sweeping over the country. He spoke of the results of county option laws similar to ours in other states. According to the prediction of the Indiana Anti-saloon league, he said, Indiana will have but eleven wet counties in 1911, of which Allen county will be one.

LESS THAN QUARTER OF MILLION IN BRYAN FUND.

"It will be noticed from the foregoing statement that the cash balance is about $22,000. Supplies contracted for and undelivered, circulation of literature, the expense of headquarters in Chicago, New York and Denver, and the traveling and other expenses incident to our speaking campaign, now under way, will make necessary an additional $100,000 to carry out the campaign to a successful issue. We are confident that the people, whom we are thus taking into our confidence, will supply us with the additional sum and we earnestly urge a prompt and generous response to this appeal.

"Subscriptions received of $100 or more will be published daily, beginning October 16th."

The Largest Donation.

The largest individual contribution received by Mr. Ridder was one of $5,000 from Charles J. Hughes, of Colorado. W. J. Bryan was the second largest individual contributor, he having turned into the national treasurer $4,046 from the profits of his newspaper, the Commoner. Some of the contributors whose names appeared in the list given out last week have increased their donations, as for instance, Ex-Senator W. A. Clark, of Montana, and Norman E. Mack, whose names are down now for $2,000 each.

Georgia is represented on a list by a single contribution—that of Governor Hoke Smith—of $250.

The name of C. N. Haskell, former treasurer of the national committee, does not appear in the long list of contributions from Oklahoma.

urged in these recommendations were the enlargement of the powers of the superintendent and the increase of his evangelistic force. These reports together with the recommendations were still under discussion when the convention adjourned. During the noon hour a photograph of the delegates at the convention was taken by E. F. Perry.

The Afternoon Session.

The discussion begun at the forenoon session was resumed this afternoon and was followed by a vigorous address by the new superintendent of missions, Rev. W. B. Pope, of Franklin, Ind. The opening address of the afternoon session, which was to have been delivered by Rev. G. M. Lehigh, was given by Rev. P. L. Powell, of Franklin, Ind., as the former was unable to be present. The election of officers took place at 3:30 o'clock and half an hour later the quiet hour was conducted by Rev. H. P. Klyver, of Peru, Ind. The session will adjourn at 5 o'clock.

A portion of the assembly room of the First Baptist church has been artistically arranged as a rest room for the ladies attending the convention. It has been entirely furnished by the Foster Furniture company and is most artistic in its arrangement of mission furniture and fine draperies. The room has been in great demand and is a feature much appreciated.

Prof. Mathews' Address.

The spacious auditorium of the First Baptist church was crowded on Wednesday evening with visiting delegates and members of the congregation, who assembled to hear Prof. Shailer Mathews, dean of the Divinity school of the University of Chicago, deliver his eloquent address on "The Gospel and the Modern Man." The evening session opened with a praise service conducted by the chorus and prayer offered by Rev. J. A. Knowlton, of Dunkirk. After a selection by the quartet, composed of Mrs. Clara Zollars Bond, Miss Mabel Carter, Clint Willsen and S. R. Taylor, the speaker of the evening was introduced.

Dr. Mathews suggested that the best introduction to his theme was Paul's declaration that he was not ashamed of the gospel. This declaration was made when the, gospel was face to face with a new world which it was to conquer. Today it faces a new world intellectually and socially and again it is to conquer.

"'Why was Saul not ashamed of the gospel as he faced the Roman world?' The answer to that question will suggest analogies which are true today. Probably he contrasted the gospel with the life of his day, particularly as represented in the great centers. Today we face the same thing and the same fear of the city is on us. We are compelled to ask today, what can the gospel do for the city? Our tendency is cityward. Can we save the city? If we do not, the city will destroy us. The task is a serious one. We need to face it with the optimism of Paul age like that Paul was not ashamed the gospel.' It has the power to save the city.

"Again, we can imagine Paul becoming somewhat discouraged with the spirit of his age. It was a brutal age an age which found its highest enjoyment in bloodshed. It was a sensual age and thoroughly licentious. It was an age also which believed in force, and knew no rights as we count rights. There were only degrees of subjection. But face to face with an age like that Paul was not ashemed of the gospel, the central principle of which is love.

"In our age, men talk of a millenium to be gained by force. But again the gospel in which love is to be regnant must be the power which shall prevail. This must be carried out in practical life by those who profess the gospel. We, too, must walk in the way which leads to Calvary, if need be. The only social message is the message of the cross.

"Again Paul was confronted by the sinfulness of his age. Sin is an appalling reality. Theological professors may minimize it but no man in touch with practical life can do so. The need is that all the consequences of sin be emphasized until men are convinced of their need of salvation. In view of the sin of his age Paul was not ashamed of his gospel and it is the power which must cure and overcome the sin of this age.

Sin An Appalling Reality.

"Once more the Roman world was much given to philosophy. Any ism could secure a following. Our world is similar. All one has to do to get a following is to become insane. As Paul thought of the philosophies sweeping over the Roman world he was not ashamed of the simple gospel. In our present day of intellectual ferment, the gospel of facts, effective in this life, must prove itself the power of God. But we must bring it into the thinking world. The thinking world and the believing world must be kept together. Hence the need for a theology to make significant the message of the gospel. Our age calls for faith and a new interest in religion is manifesting itself. This interest must be related to and satisfied by the gospel. The great business of the church is not to polish up and manicure a theology, but to address itself to living and thinking men.

"Faith has not changed. The gospel has not changed, but it must be stated in terms intelligible to the modern man, whose mode of thinking has been determined by the wealth of facts which science has brought to him. Then he will accept the gospel not as new, but as old and the mighty power of God. He will have a vital, saving faith. In the face of modern conditions we are fully justified in maintaining the confidence which Paul expressed as he faced the world of his day."

The address was listened to with eager attention and elicited frequent and vigorous applause. The singing of "Like a Hart," by Mrs. Clara Zollars Bond, and the benediction by Rev. O. R. McKay brought to a close a most inspiring session.

Committees Appointed.

After the evening session the following committees were appointed:

Christian Stewardship—Revs. P. L. Powell, R. D. Licklider, C. P. Kirby, C. M. Dinsmore and James Brown.

State Charities—Dr. W. T. Stott, Revs. E. M. Martinson, S. E. Davies, E. R. Bobbitt and T. C. Smith.

Temperance—Revs. U. M. McGuire, W. G. Everson, G. E. Long, George F. McFarren and Charles Cassell.

Work of Publication Society.

The Wednesday afternoon session opened with an address by Rev. R. G. Seymour, D. D., of Philadelphia. His subject was "The Work of the American Baptist Society," a work with which he has been connected for over a quarter of a century. He emphasized the business-like methods of the society and pointed out that all its profits go into the extension of Baptist work. The society has recently erected and dedicated a handsome building known as the Roger William building, as its headquarters in Philadelphia. The society's twenty presses, going constantly, printed last year over 50,000,000 pages. It keeps in its field a force of several hundred misisonaries and maintains seven chapel cars.

Dr. Mathews in his address during the religious hour, spoke from Luke 4:2, in which Jesus is described as being led by the spirit. Jesus is represented as being inspired and made conscious of His divine mission by the Holy Spirit. On the other hand He was led by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted. This represents the paradox of the spiritual life. The life of Jesus is typical of the life of the individual and the spiritual crises of His life are times of danger as well as times of power. The supreme thing is to be so responsive to the spirit that life shall be throughout triumphant.

Alumni Members Banquet.

During the intermission between the afternoon and evening sessions, two banquets and college reunions occurred. The graduates of the Louisville Baptist seminary met at the Homestead cafe for dinner and a social hour. Professor A. T. Robertson, of the seminary, delivered an address. Graduates of the University of Chicago assembled in the dining room of the First Baptist church, where the Farther Lights society served a banquet and the guest of honor and speaker was Prof. Shailer Mathews.

We especially thank the Kerr Murray company for their respect to us and for their excellent donation. Miss Laura Rundell was honor guest at a very pretty card party given last evening by her cousin, the Misses Laura and Marie Eggemann, of 1019 Lafayette street. Cards were played but the especially pretty feature of the evening was shown at supper time when the guests who numbered twelve, were invited to the dining-room. The table was done in green and white with smilax and ferns and the chair for Miss Rundell was indicated with a wreath of plumosus tied with green chiffon. The place cards had single pink rose buds tied to them and after the elegant supper, these roses were presented to Miss Rundell. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rundell issued invitations yesterday to the wedding of their daughter Laura Ellen to Louis Edward Finan, which will take place Wednesday, October 28, at 9 o'clock in the Cathedral.

Weihe—Myers.

Miss Catherine Myers and Mr. Otto Weihe were united in marriage on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Myers, of 1426 Clifton avenue, by Rev. Theodore Hahn, pastor of the English Lutheran church of the Redeemer. Miss Anna Brueggemann played the wedding march as the bride and groom entered the parlor, where the ceremony took place. During the marriage service Miss Brueggeman played "O, Promise Me." The bride wore a stylish and pretty gown of brown foulard silk. In her hair she wore real orange blossoms that had been sent by a sister living in Pasadena, Cal., and her bouquet was made of white roses. Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations had been extended the company was served with an elegant wedding supper. Later in the evening the bride and groom left for a few days' trip out of the city and on their return they will be at home for the present with the bride's brother. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Weihe, of Lakeside, and he is an energetic young business man of upright character in the employ of the Fort Wayne Electric company.

Striking Restaurant Gown

The arrangement of graduated stripes in this clever restaurant frock is so striking that one overlooks the unusual grace—even in a season of graceful gowns—of this model. As to the manner in which it is decorated, soutache loops in a ladder rung effect make a very rich trimming, while from the small, draped oversleeves drop braid ornaments.

A Stunning Fall Model

This stunning toque of striped velvet is an exceedingly smart piece of millinery, and a style that many young women will affect for business wear during this season and for the early winter. It is decidedly plain, being trimmed only with a chou of satin ribbon and two strong quills placed at an angle that becomes the wearer.

For the Matinee Girl

Since the inception of the one piece dress separate waists have lost favor with the matinee girl. She prefers a simple little frock of silk and satin or some clinging wool fabric with which she can wear a dressy separate coat of cloth. With such dresses the all black large hat is considered far more ultra than that in a tone match-ing the dress fabric.

CONVICTED OF LAND FRAUDS.

Head of Chicago Ranch Company Found Guilty in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 15.—The jury in the federal court in the case of Frederick S. Baird, charged with attempting to defraud the government of several thousand acres of public land in Dawes county, Nebraska, by means of fictitious entries, late last night returned a verdict of guilty on six counts.

Baird is a Chicago attorney and is the head of the Chicago Ranch company, whose members are mostly Chicago people, many being railroad men. The members filed on claims under the Kinkaid desert land act and pooled their interests, contributing to a general fund for the purpose of making the required improvements. Irregularities in securing the lands were charged.

Baird was indicted with Patrick J. and Lawrence E. King, conspiracy being one of the charges. The trial of the Kings will come up at a future term of the court.

IN THE THEATERS

AT THE TEMPLE.

Many patrons of the Temple theater say that they have never seen anything funnier than May Rodell and her scarecrows. To be sure, they mention the rest of the bill and say "Good, good," to all of it, but they grow extravagant when they think of Miss Rodell and her performance. She certainly is a drawing card. It is her individuality and her originality that is winning the praise. She is May Rodell, a bund'e of energy, with a sweet voice and a dainty appearance. The Wakahama Japs, Curtis and Busse, Ilda Schnee and the Sully family all continue to help make the bill one of unusual entertainment.

When Hall Caine's great story, "The Christian," was given a stage presentation a few years ago it was one of the most attractive as well as one of the most interesting plays of its time. It has worn well with the play-going public and has lost none of its attractiveness. The original production was lavish in its wealth of scenery and stage adornments. This great play will be presented by Our Own Stock company at the Majestic and the stage carpenters and the scenic artists have given it careful advance attention. Wright Huntington, who was a member of the cast in one of the former productions of this story which has been endorsed by the press, the patrons of the theater and likewise the pulpit, has with his usual enthusiasm jumped into the preparations for this event and not a single detail seen in the original offering will be neglected by Manager Rice in the forthcoming production. It will be a meritorious offering and owing to the fact that a larger cast is necessary several new faces will be seen in the company for the coming engagement.

The enthusiasm of the audiences is unbounded and the players are showered with applause. The final performance of this beautiful military play will be given at the Majestic tonight. The company will

HAD QUIT WORK READY TO GIVE UP IN DESPAIR

Restored to Health By Vinol

"I was sick, run-down and finally had to give up work. After trying a number of remedies and several physicians, I was just about ready to give up in despair. I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it, and it has done more good for me than all other means combined. It has built me up and restored my strength until I now feel twenty years younger, and am able to attend to my work again as usual." Job Jeavons, 1036 Lind street, Wheeling, W. Va.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains tonic iron and all of the strengthening blood-making and body-building elements of cod liver, but no oil.

Vinol is unexcelled as a strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness—and is the best known remedy for coughs, colds and bronchitis.

Detroit, Oct. 15.—Yesterday's game was the best played of the world's championship series and duplicated the score of the last game in the series of 1907. The Tigers played the best ball they have shown in the series and the Cubs set the usual fast pace. Both teams played errorless ball and the Tigers were more awake than any time during the series. They used their heads to better advantage and nailed several good plays off the Cubs. But the class was always there and the Cubs did not experience the slightest difficulty in winning easily. The Tigers fought as only desperate men can when they see the greatest honors in the baseball world slipping from their grasp.

It was the last stand of the old guard of Jennings. They had been driven steadily back by the magnificent onslaughts of Chance's great machine. They had been pushed back and were on the ragged edge, and one more defeat would push them over the bank into obscurity.

Despite their brilliant capture of the American league pennant, they would become nobodies in baseball.

It seemed most unjust to a baseball team that it's well earned and richly deserved honors of winning a championship in a major league should be wiped out in this short series. All the joy of capturing the pennant after a spectacular fight goes when the champions are beaten out in the world's series.

The Tigers fought hard. They used every trick and device they could muster. They fought with their bats, their hands, and their heads, but they were repulsed and driven back at every stage. The Tigers were never able to take the aggressive. They were on the defensive all the way. They fought grittily to hold Chance's men, apparently realizing they were helpless before the grand work of Overall. But the Cubs were just as grim and determined and a better baseball machine. The Tigers were nine men fighting together and with one common object. The Cubs were nine men carefully molded into a living, breathing, thinking baseball machine. They have but one object in life and that is to win and win and go on winning. They have won so long and steadily that defeat is an unknown word in their lexicon.

Win! win! win! they must win! is their very breath of life. They are young, but veterans in the game. They know every trick and stratagem the game can invent. When they find they are losing a game with hands they turn and snatch it out of the air with their great baseball brains.

Winning, winning, winning! That is the only music they have in life. The song of victory is sweeter to them than anything, while the dirge of defeat is an unknown tune to their ears.

When will they stop winning? That was the question that was asked on every hand as the crowd filed slowly out of Bennett park this afternoon, but no one could answer. The Cubs were considered a great bunch of players in 1906, when they galloped away with 116 victories in the National league season, but they lost before the White Sox in the world's championship series. Many critics predicted that defeat would disorganize the great team, but it came back as strong as ever in 1907. They won the National league pennant with more than 100 victories and then turned and defeated Detroit in four straight games in the world's series.

A little more than a month ago it appeared as though their winning was at an end. It seemed as though they must bow before that inexorable decree of fate that ordains that no one can be a winner all the time. Then they showed that one must add nerve and gameness to their other attributes. They came from behind and won the pennant in their last two games, disposing of their two closest antagonists on a wonderful burst of everything that spells victory in baseball.

Cubs in Real Hero Class.

Their latest trick of winning the world's championship brands the Cubs as the greatest baseball team the world has ever seen.

The victory was a clean cut, decisive affair like Tuesday's, and again demonstrated the complete mastery of the Cubs over their opponents. The Cubs have everything. The Tigers have little besides the power of their mighty bats, and they do not have that against such pitchers as Overall and Brown.

For nine innings Ty Cobb, Sam Crawford, Claud Rossman, Matty McIntyre, Herman Schaefer—all famed far and wide as men who hit the ball—strove in vain to break through the impregnable stone wall of Overall's wonderful pitching. In these nine innings these mighty sluggers managed to get two hits, while Coughlin scratched a doubtful one in the fifth.

Crawford shot a clean single to center with one out in the first. Then there was nothing doing in the hitting until the fifth. Coughlin opened by beating out one to Steinfeldt. Wild Bill struck out and McIntyre sent joy to the hearts of the corporals' guard of rooters by shooting a two bagger along the left field foul line and into the circus seats on the bound. That was the swan song of the Detroit sluggers for the world's series of 1908. In the last four innings only one Tiger reached first base, Cobb drawing a base on balls in the sixth. After that it was one, two, three, and all was over.

Besides holding the Tigers to three scanty hits, Overall struck out ten of the mighty ones. Overall was not particular which ones he fanned. He took them as they came. The first man to fall a victim to his deceptive shoots was O'Leary, in the first inning. Immediately after that he struck out Ty Cobb, the premier batter of the American league. That took all the snap out of Cobb, for he failed to get a hit in the remainder of the game.

Rossman, Schaefer, and Schmidt each fanned twice before the big fellow's curves. Cobb, O'Leary, Donovan, and Crawford furnished the other victims by the whiff route. McIntyre and Coughlin were the only men who did not strike out.

Wild Bill Donovan, the only hope of Hughey Jennings, was sent in to stop the Cub batters in the last effort to remain in the fight for the title of world champions. He was hit hard and often by the terrible Cub batters. They smashed his offerings for a total of ten safe hits, Chance and Evers carrying off the laurels here with three apiece. These swats were fairly well scattered, but two runs was more than enough to win in the teeth of such marvelous pitching as Overall was handing out.

NEW PITCHER ADDED TO FORT WAYNE STAFF

Claude Varnell Bought Miller from Clarksburg Team.

J. L. Miller, who pitched for Wheeling during the latter part of the season and won eight out of fifteen games with the Stogies fielding and batting behind him, has been purchased by Owner Claude H. Varnell for the Fort Wayne staff of next season.

The new man did not perform in any of the Wheeling engagements on the local lot and is not known to Fort Wayne fandom. For that matter it was such a difficult matter for the patrons to keep tab on Wheeling that the man might have gone in in a game here and never been remembered. He belonged to Clarksburg, W. Va., and was only loaned to Wheeling. Mr. Varnell liked his work all year and thinks where he will be placed under better discipline and given a better chance he will make a showing.

Mike Brosius has also sent in his contract. He is a good pitcher, or to be more explicit, he was a good pitcher the first year he was with Terre Haute and he may come back. Anyhow he will be given a chance and if he shows anything he will be added to the staff. He is still a youngster and last season may have been nothing more than an off year with him.

Mr. Varnell is also after a first-class shortstop and has his eyes on a good man, but the club that owns him only wants $1,500 for him. It is a Class C. team at that. He could have been drafted by the majors for $750 and can still be snapped up by the Class A's at $500 and after Nov. 15 the Fort Wayne club can draft him for $300 and the management would make a lot of money paying double figures for him.

FRIGHT CAUSED ILLNESS.

Physicians Attribute Hendricks' Illness to Aveline Fire.

The physicians who treated Manager Jack Hendricks during his illness at Robert Burns hospital in Chicago, attribute his illness to fright incidental to the Aveline hotel fire, in which he and his wife and son had a narrow escape from death. The manager's friends noted that he was not himself after his experience in the burning building and his health declined from the time of the fire until the end of the season, when he found it necessary to go to a hospital where he had a fight for his life.

He has written this to friends in the city and added that he would in all probability be able to leave the institution by Saturday of this week. He says he is eating three meals a day now and is making a good recovery.

ROBERT C. CAPTURES THE FEATURE AT LEXINGTON

Off Day Furnishes a Good Card on the Grand Circuit.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 15.—Although the card of yesterday afternoon was supposed to be that of an "off day," some of the best racing that has been seen here lately was conducted, especial interest centering in the Lexington stake for 2-year-olds. Robert C. was the big upset, as he won in two straight heats, with Fanny Lawson, the favorite, second. High Admiral was third.

Brenda Yorke took the last event on the card, but an element of interest was lent by the performance of Iseneta. She made a sensational rush in the first heat and finished third, the manner of her closing seeming to indicate that she would be a dangerous contender thereafter. She finished last in the next heat, however. Ed Geers, the veteran, won the 2:18 class pacing with Pender Jr. in straight heats. Axtara was second. In the first event Jack Leyburn, the chestnut gelding, beat out the gray performer, Locust Jack, although the latter made a bold bid for honors.

The Kentucky stake, for 3-year-olds, is the feature on today's card. The summaries:

VARNELL WANTS THE BEST GROUND IN LAGEUE

Improvements Looking to This End are Now Under Way.

Local base ball patrons who expressed great surprise and satisfaction when they saw the improvements at the Fort Wayne league park at the opening of last season will open their eyes when they see the lot next spring, as Owner Claude H. Varnell has under way improvements that will make it the finest park by long odds in the league and one that will compare very favorably with any in the United States.

Five hundred loads of dirt will be dumped into the infield and outfield and the owner's instructions are to make the lot as level as a billiard table, so that every facility will be afforded for high class base ball during the remaining years of Varnell's lease. All of the sod has been removed from the diamond and after it has been filled this will be replaced.

Additional sod will be put down that will cover the whole diamond as far out as the base paths. The grass will be removed in a half circle extending around the diamond fifty feet back of the bases and this space will be leveled up and rolled down hard.

Every hole and depression in the outfield will be filled with dirt, the high places cut down and spring will find Fort Wayne equipped with just what the owner wants—a high class ball park. Mr. Varnell has spent his money and given his time to making Fort Wayne the best town in the league. Luck broke against him last season and he did not make any money.

As a matter of fact he is not in the business for money. He is a ball crank and likes the game and is content with an even break. The only thing he wants is to have a good park, a good ball team and the approval of the local public.

In addition to the improvements to the outfield he will fix up all of the stands in the spring and will open the season of 1909 in much better shape than in 1908.

MAKE PAPER PULP FROM CORNSTALKS GOOD AS FROM WOOD

After Long Trials Government Solves Problem of a Substitute.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.—The chemists of the department of agriculture believe they have solved the problem of cheaper paper that will dispense altogether with the use of wood fiber. The new material from which five grades of paper already have been made is the ordinary cornstalk and the officials today predicted when the manufacture of the new kind of paper is started on a large scale it will be at least 50 per cent. cheaper than the print paper now made from wood pulp.

The bureau has been working on the discovery for a number of years, but not until this week have the results been so positively successful as to permit any announcement. The first practicable samples of the new paper have been manufactured by Dr. H. S. Bristol and his assistants.

Dr. Bristol has carried his experiments to the point of making the paper in five shades.

White Paper From Outside.

The white paper is made from the hard outside shell of the stalk and the yellow grades from the pith. The yellow grades have much longer fiber and resemble the paper made from linen rags or cotton. This kind of paper is soft and pliable.

Millions of tons of cornstalks will be available for this new manufacture. At present the stalks are annually destroyed in enormous quantities to get them out of the way or are simply turned under the soil with a plow to add slightly to the fertilization of the next year's crop.

The process of manufacturing the new invention is much easier than that involved in reducing wood pulp to paper. The chemists have used in their experiments the "soda cooked" process which has been found to be the best for making the finer grades of wood pulp papers. But the cornstalks require only about two and a half hours of cooking in this process, against thirteen or fourteen hours needed to soften the wood pulp.

Means Cut in Price.

So far the new paper has been made in a laboratory without special machinery or the wholesale production necessary to insure cheapness, but the department is going to experiment at once on a larger scale and the officials believe the price of white paper, as well as other grades, will be reduced to a startling degree.

The estimates of the department are based on the present cost of wood pulp paper, which is $13 a ton. With wood costing $8 a cord, that is the price of the paper. With corn stalks costing about $15 a ton, adding in the cost of bringing the bulky material to the Washington laboratory, the cost has been about $14 a ton. There is no doubt in the minds of department chemists that increased production will cut this cost in half.

"No special growth of corn is needed," said one of the chemists today. "We have used the ordinary stalk from the Virginia fields and the kind which is destroyed in wasteful quantities each year can now be turned to use. Not only will the cost of paper be greatly reduced, but the farmer will have an added asset in a by-product that ought to net him a neat sum each year."

HANLY CANNOT STAY.

Governor is Due for Address at Elwood Sunday Afternoon.

In all probability it will be impossible for Governor J. Frank Hanly, who comes to Fort Wayne to deliver an address Saturday evening, to remain in the city and speak Sunday morning at Wayne Street M. E. church. The governor had been invited to remain, but it is learned that as he is billed to address a union meeting of the temperance forces at Elwood Sunday afternoon, he will probably leave the city at the conclusion of his rink address Saturday evening.

CLEARS THE COMPLEXION OVERNIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Eczema Cure.

Since its discovery one year ago, poslam, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use poslam for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Fort Wayne at Meyer Bros. Co. and other leading drug stores.

Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York city.

PRESIDENT IS CONFIDENT THAT TAFT WILL BE WINNER

Roosevelt Sure Ohio Man Will Have More Votes Than He Got.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Although there is some anxiety among republican managers over local conditions in a number of places, notably Ohio, President Roosevelt does not share it. He is in close touch with the situation throughout the country and is receiving reports daily. He is absolutely certain as to the outcome, as positive today that Taft will be elected by an overwhelming vote as he was before the Chicago convention that he would be nominated on the first ballot.

"Taft will have more votes in the electorial college than I had in 1904," said the president yesterday.

It was explained at the white house that the president's only anxiety about New York is concerning Hughes. There are reasons personal to the president why he doesn't want Hughes plurality to fall far below Taft's, though he does not concede for a minute that Hughes can fail of election. Many of the president's closest friends, notably William L. Ward, William Barnes, jr., Herbert Parsons and Timothy Woodruff, bitterly opposed Hughes' renomination. They are now supporting him. The president does not want his friends to be charged with the responsibility of lowering the governor's plurality. Above all, he does not want them to appear responsible for Hughes' defeat, which he considers a very remote possibility.

Some of the persons to whom the president has talked have ventured to quote him as estimating Taft's vote in the electoral college at 306. It was said at the white house today that the president is making no numerical estimates at present. He is content to rest his reputation as a political prophet on the simple statement that Taft will have more votes in the electoral college than were given to Roosevelt in 1904.

News from Ohio is of a disquieting character. The president discussed the reports today with one of his cabinet officers and expressed some concern. Two things cause worry—the attitude of Foraker's friends and the local option issue. But even these wrinkles will be "ironed out," it is believed, in the next two weeks.

THE FARMERS' MEETING.

Assistance Being Lent to Make It Successful One.

The officers and members of the Farmers' Institutes of both this and Huntington counties have promised to do all in their power to make the Farmers' meeting, which Agriculture Expert H. B. McClure has promised to address, a most successful one. From the present indications the meeting will be held probably on the 14th of November, as that date seems to satisfy all concerned more than any other.

The project of bringing Mr. McClure, who is located at Washington, D. C., was first proposed by the local hay and grain shippers and they enlisted the aid of the nearby farmers' institutes. A meeting will be held on Monday evening, the 26th of this month, when the members of the committees of the institute and the local dealers' association will perfect the plans for the meeting.

The morning's meeting was devoted to reports of missionaries from India and Micronesia.

Rev. Dr. Daniel F. Bradley, of Cleveland, delivered a "Message to Pastors," and the Rev. Ernest B. Allen, of Toledo, discussed the board, the home department and the churches.

The business session and election of officers was held in the afternoon and later there was a mission rally for women.

BRITISH UNEMPLOYED MARCH.

Great Demonstrations Are Taking Place in Cities.

London, Oct. 15.—The recent demonstrations by the unemployed in Great Britain brought about one result today rather out of the ordinary. This was the issuing of a writ against William James Thorne, social democratic member of parliament from the southern division of Westham, for inciting to a breach of the peace by making a speech in which he advised the unemployed to "rush" the baner shops rather than starve.

A body of the unemployed is marching today from Nottingham to London. Serious riots were averted in Sheffield yesterday only when the mayor announced that the sum of $500,000 would be devoted to relief work. There have been demonstrations of the unemployed also at Sunderland and Maidstone.

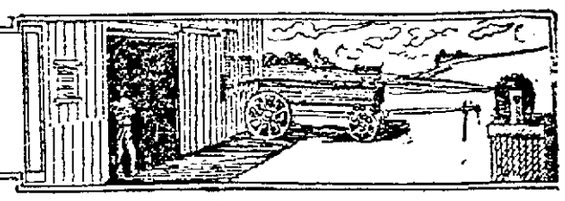
NEWS AND VIEWS OF FARMERS



LIGHT ON FARM HOME LIFE

How Women in the Country Can Brighten Their Lives by Growing Things Beautiful.

BY MRS. JEAN VAN BENTHUYSEN.

No house to me is entirely homelike without a few plants—the more the better if there is a good window or bay window facing the sun. The plainest home can be made attractive and fresh-looking by flowering plants, and for lovers of flowers the care of them is a work of love.

Men are as a rule very fond of flowers. They are not apt to say much about them, but they feel the refining influence of a window in bloom.

I know a little town in Iowa where almost every house has its window or windows bright with flowers and plants all winter long. I have a friend there whose only companions are flowers.

She lives in a bright, clean little cottage where everything shines under a system of housekeeping that varies not with time or change or man.

She has a square room built on the corner of her sitting room, all inclosed in glass. In this small compartment she has every known plant that is able to put forth an attractive color or that she has been able to get hold of.

Painted fruit and baking powder cans, old pails, a tub or two for trees or large plants, boxes and hanging baskets are pressed into service as pots.

Everything, though plain, is beautified with a shower of lovely flowers, and a cactus winds its serpentine way among the pots and boxes. Vines wander at their own sweet will over the windows and door.

When you enter the house the first thing you notice is this little bit of summer at the corner of the room.

It greets you with its fragrance and beauty and has lent to the hostess and house its indefinable charm. This woman has gathered from her flowers something of their mute loveliness and quiet hospitality.

White lilies lift their waxen cups in gracious welcome. A rose or two shows opening petals among green leaves. Geraniums flaunt their charms in a jolly lot of colors and varieties.

The lemon tree has fruit that will never do anything but hang in a sort of imitation of the real thing, but which, nevertheless, is a credit to its grower, for is it not cold and white without?

Do not the winds blow around the corner from the north? And is it not a brave and cheerful spot that warms one's heart?

If you love the care of flowers, and if you are lonely, or if you need the cheerful influence of color and perpetual refreshment, plan a little space for flowers.

It is the home beautiful, outside and inside, that a woman should occupy herself with.

The Boston ivy, wistaria and Virginia creeper are the best vines for the northern climates. Plant some hardy shrubs and with vines cover up unsightly outhouses and sheds. Hollyhocks by the old fence, and sweet williams and phlox, golden glow and hop vines all help to make the place attractive, and only need one planting. Every year they reappear in greater luxury and beauty.

This is essentially a woman's work, as the men folks are usually engaged in deeper problems. But no woman should let the year go by without adding something to the beauty of her home and the world at large.

And while you are doing it don't neglect yourself. Remember that you are the fountain of the home, the chief cause of it, the reigning spirit. Therefore make of yourself the most attractive thing in it.

A woman makes a great mistake in completely submerging herself in her house work. The home proper is a shelter, a protection, a place of rest and peace where the feeling of possession and proprietorship fills one with a sense of something gained—something garnered, something to love, even unto death.

A TRAP FOR HOGS

For ringing hogs this trap will be found very useful. The frame is made of 2 by 4 lumber strongly bolted at the corners. The front end has a door "A," made of two strong thick oak boards with cross cleats on the inside at top and bottom. This is held to the frame by two strong hinges and when in use is held up by the strong iron clamp "F." The level is so arranged that the trap can be set for small or large hogs. The crate is 4 feet 2 inches long, 2 feet 4 inches high and 1 foot 6 inches wide, inside measure. Place the trap with rear end close to the hog pen with the lever thrown back. When the hog enters he will thrust his head through the hole and you can then pull the lever and hold him.

With two strong handles attached to the sides of the crate it makes an excellent loading device.

AGE FOR PLANTING TREES

Samuel Hopkins, Eastport, N. Y., asks, Will it be best to use 1-year-old trees to start an orchard with?

Select good, straight trees; ordinarily we would advise good 2-year-old stock, although there is no particular objection to year-old trees.

POULTRY ON THE FARM

On the farm it pays better to fence the garden than the chickens. True, they are often a nuisance in various places, but the expense of keeping them in a park is much more than one would suppose without giving it a trial, and the material which they convert into meat and eggs, much of which would be otherwise waste products, puts the range chickens easily on the winning side.

A good range is essential to cleanliness.

The hen, like the cow, is simply a machine to convert the raw materials on the farm into profitable products. She cannot produce more products than she is furnished raw material to manufacture.

It is just as well to have a well-bred chicken as a well-bred horse or cow. Any amount of food and care will not make a mongrel as profitable as a pure-bred under the same conditions.

The growth and development of the poultry business has been the means of keeping more than one boy and girl on the farm.

Do you believe in special purpose breeds with chickens as well as with any other live stock? We stick to Leghorns, Hamburgs, and other Mediterranean breeds for egg production and Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes and American breeds for market specialties, and Asiatics and other large breeds for strictly ornamental purposes.

It hardly ever pays to doctor a sick chicken, but it does pay to use the most improved methods to prevent disease.

Of the large breeds the Black Langshans have more life, vigor and stronger constitutions than the Brahmas, Cochins and other large breeds.

AS SEEN BY THE HIRED MAN

A South Dakota farmer writes to his home farm paper that "if you can get the average hired man out of bed before 5:30 or 6 in the morning he is a treasure," and adds that "the farmer is the most imposed upon." I don't think he is.

My experience of twenty years is that most farmers get their money's worth out of the hired man, and that is right, of course. Many of them seem to think that when they pay a man $25 a month and board he ought to put in at least eighty hours a week, sleep any old place and never take a day off.

However, these cases are the exception and not the rule, and I have found farm work agreeable, not too hard, and farm owners considerate and reasonable.

Of course all men are not alike and the job depends upon the employer and the man. If they both do their duty by each other there will be no cause for complaint on either side.

Talk about a hired man lying in bed till 6 o'clock! I never knew such a man—farm-bred and worthy of the name—who could be kept in bed after daylight, and the Dakota man certainly has had a bad run of luck.

It is no hardship to roll out at daylight on the farm or in the city, provided a man goes to bed at a decent hour. Thousands of city clerks who live in the suburbs—many of them fifteen to thirty miles from their work—have to hustle out at 5 or 5:30 every morning, winter and summer, to catch their trains, and count themselves lucky if they get back home at 6 in the evening.—Joe Johnston.

HOG CHOLERA CAN BE CURED

After thirty years of patient and persistent investigation the government Department of Agriculture has at last announced that it has discovered a means of not only affording immediate relief from hog cholera, but of eliminating the disease entirely.

Hog cholera cures have been announced numberless times and unscrupulous quacks have taken great sums from the farmers for alleged "cures," but never before has there been discovered a real cure.

The convention of scientists at the Iowa college, where the latest investigations were carried on, has worked out a plan by which farmers can have the greatest possible benefit from this discovery, and it will soon be available from any state experiment station.

The discovery means the saving of millions to the hog raisers of the country, and it will give the industry a more stable character than ever. To Dr. Dorset of the Department of Agriculture belongs great credit for the intelligent and successful prosecution of the work of discovery originated by Dr. D. A. Schwernitz and carried on by him up to the time of his death.

Write to your state experiment station for information regarding conditions in your state.

OUT IN COLORADO

C. E. Keagy of Highland Lake grew 140 tons of sugar beets on four acres.

J. F. Jackson of Greeley on four acres grew eighty-eight tons of pumpkins that netted him over $300.

W. L. Carroll of Peckham on ten acres grew 4,500 bushels of potatoes.

At Meeker one farmer grew 800 tons of hay. His oats averaged 80 bushels per acre and his wheat 45 bushels.

In Pueblo county George W. Snyder averaged 30 bushels of wheat per acre without irrigation.

Dr. J. A. Whitting of Hart's Basin on a 200-acre field grew 100 bushels of oats to the acre. The stalks reached a height of 6 feet and a single head 21 inches long contained 336 grains.

John Ziller of Gilcrest on a forty-acre field averaged 75 bushels of wheat per acre.

In Delta county J. P. Kernohan on 3.5 acres of land sold potatoes, turnips, strawberries and gooseberries that brought him a total of $1,200.

In Jefferson county J. E. Bailey harvested 30 tons of timothy hay on nine acres.

MRS. DOWIE IN CHICKEN BUSINESS

A new celebrity has joined the ranks of poultry women. Mrs. Jane Dowie, widow of the late "Apostle" Dowie, has established a poultry plant on Ben MacDhui, Dowie's costly farm at Muskegon, Mich. Dowie expended immense sums of money on his farm, which was one of his pet projects

TO KEEP ICE FOR HOT DAYS

Cheap and Good House for Storage Can Be Built by Any Handy Farmer.

BY T. WESLEY GRIFFIN.

Five years ago we built an icehouse after the following plan and have found it to be all that could be expected: We excavated four feet, then laid a six-inch drain tile on a level with the bottom of the excavation, giving the tile two inches fall each ten feet.

The site for the icehouse was on rolling ground, so we only had to make the drain about sixty feet long. We filled in with coarse, broken stone one foot after the excavation was walled up with stone one foot above the level of the surrounding ground.

The wall was just one foot thick, the thickness of the sides of the wooden framework above ground. The advantages of putting the icehouse two or three feet in the ground are several. We can get a system of drainage without getting a direct current of air on the ice, and it is more convenient to fill and to get out the ice.

The frame is made of 2x4 stuff, sided up with broad plank one-inch stuff and the cracks stuffed with four-inch strips. The size of this outside framework is fourteen feet square and twelve feet tall to the eve.

There is an inside frame twelve feet square and twelve feet tall. This leaves an opening between the walls of ten inches to be filled with sawdust. Before we put the sawdust in we wired the frames together. Then we packed in the sawdust. There was no bulging of the walls.

In front there is a continuous doorway three feet wide. For this opening there are eight doors three feet square, four for each wall; there are strips nailed to each side of opening to hold them in position till sawdust is placed between them as the house is filled. We cut the cakes of ice two feet square; this makes five rows of cakes across each way of the house and leaves a space of one foot around the wall to be filled in with sawdust.

The cakes are all sawed the same size and laid in tins, so the cracks between the tins will be continuous and the water from melting will run off easily and not melt the ice so rapidly as if let run over and stand on the ice any length of time.

After filling in four or five feet deep with ice sawdust is packed in tight between the ice and the wall, and so on until house is full; then about one foot of sawdust is put on top.

There is a door in each end of the house near the comb three feet square for ventilation; a screen of fine wire is put on the inside of each door to keep out sparrows and other birds that would be likely to roost inside.

The method of filling the house is as follows: A chute is made as in the cut, running from the pond to the house.

The chute is three feet wide and has side rails four inches tall to keep ice from slipping off.

There is a rope running from the pond through the icehouse, to which is hitched a horse to pull up the ice; four cakes at a time are taken up.

A boy rides on the plank that pulls up the ice, and when the ice is pulled into the house the boy carries the plank back to the pond and gets another load that is waiting for him, while a man in the house places the load he has just left.

As the house is filled the sections of doors are put in place and sawdust put between them. The doors in the gables are left open at all times to give ventilation. As the house fills the chute next to the house is raised and is supported by iron rods running from post to post.

WORK AMONG THE CHICKENS

The incubator never "flies the coop" and never changes its mind. It is on the job all the time. Not so the cranky hen.

There is no sentiment about a hen. She is an egg and meat machine, and nothing else.

Sift a quart of fine slaked lime into a barrel with a cover, stir up a big dust and drop the gappy chickens into it. Pull them out after you have counted fifteen and they will sneeze the worms into the hereafter.

The best lice-killer we ever tried is plenty of fine ashes in the chicken house. The birds stir up a mighty dust often and no louse can live in it.

The fighting hen makes the best

NOT PRETTY BUT USEFUL

This is a picture of two prize-winning Houdans. These birds are highly esteemed in France, both as layers and for food, and are slowly making their way in this country. They are excellent layers, very gentle and their flesh is firm and of good quality. The growth of feathers on the head is objectionable to many, but are striking.

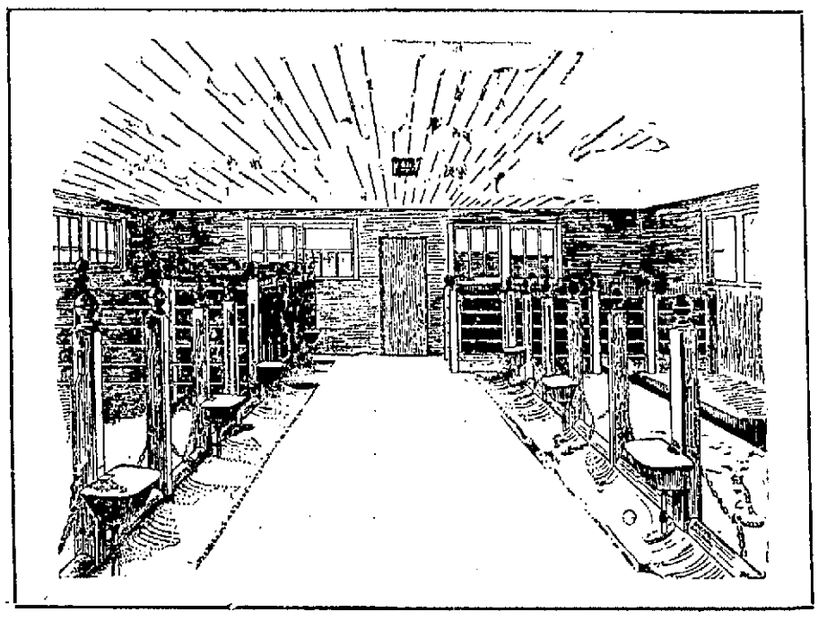
RUNNING WATER IN THE DAIRY



This is an ideal dairy barn with cement floors and running water in every stall. The covers on the troughs are kept closed to prevent dirt from falling into the water, but are so arranged that the cows can easily raise them up with their noses when they want a drink. This arrangement provides running water at all times. There is a compartment at one end of the barn for the bull and another for calves.

LADDER FOR FRUIT PICKING

If you have felt the need of a ladder that will stick while picking fruit this fall make one like that shown in the picture. It will hold up 500 pounds and will not collapse. An improvement would be an iron brace running from the long foot to the third step from the top, but that is not necessary.

FINDS THE BEST HENS PAY

To the Editor: My plucky little neighbor has sold all her mongrel chickens—and she had fifty-seven varieties—and bought fifty hens of one breed. Some of them are fine, too. She paid $30 for one cock and $20 for another, and some folks are laughing at her as being "easy" for the fancy breeder who sold them. But I believe she is right and will win out. I never saw more beautiful birds, and if she take a few prizes at the big poultry shows next winter, as she most certainly will, there will be a demand next year for all the eggs and birds she can supply at prices four or five times higher than she ever got for her scrub product. And it will cost no more to take care of the prize-winners than for the other kind.—Mrs. M. B. Wayne, Wapello County, Iowa.

THOUSANDS FOR FIVE CHICKENS

Five Crystal White Orpingtons were recently sold to Madame Paderewski, wife of the pianist, for $7,500. This is the highest price ever paid for an equal number of standard-bred birds. The money was paid in a $5,000 bill, two United States $1,000 bills and one $500 bill. These birds have been shipped to Madame Paderewski's estate in Switzerland, where she is breeding twenty varieties besides the White Orpingtons.

The successful breeder whose work and skill have been rewarded by this remarkable sale is a Missourian.

The purchaser offered him $2,500 for another hen named "Pegg," but Mr. Kellerstrass refused to sell her.

There was considerable doubt as to the genuineness of this sale when it was first announced, but it has been confirmed by both Mrs. Padereswki and the breeder.

WHY A MULE IS LIKED

Because he is the most tireless worker on the farm.

He eats less than a horse, but does more work.

He is always as good as cash in the bank.

He never falls through a hole in a bridge and generally keeps out of danger

PLOW DEEP OR SHALLOW?

Subsoil Should Not Be Turned Up From Great Depth for Many Sound Reasons.

BY W. R. GILBERT,
Canadian Experiment Station.

In regard to this question it is essential to discriminate clearly between deep plowing and deep stirring. There is a vital difference between the two; so much so that, whereas perhaps not one farmer in a hundred could from his practical experience urge the adoption of the former, there must be very few who could not conscientiously speak favorably of the beneficial influences of the latter.

Much, of course, depends upon the nature of the land, and particularly of the subsoil, but the stirring of the latter to a depth of even two inches or three inches below the ordinary furrow can scarcely fail to have a useful effect in promoting the prosperity of the succeeding crops, for the reason that breaking the plant roots to extend over a large area requires less exertion in search of nutriment and moisture.

Obviously it must be a very friable subsoil that would not derive benefit from deep stirring at occasional intervals.

The objection to deep plowing, on the other hand, is that instead of loosening the subsoil and leaving it where it was it brings it to the surface and involves the burying of the more fertile top soil to a depth at which the nutriment it contains is available to the plants only after they may be said to have emerged from the delicate and precarious stages of development.

The new soil that is brought to the top would in the course of time, no doubt, become as mellow in texture and as rich in elements of plant food as that which it has displaced, but a certain period must elapse before this can be accomplished.

In the meantime the farmer brings this hungry soil to the surface and incurs the risk of reaping inferior crops until by heavy expenditure in tillage and liberal manuring he has enriched and refined the new surface soil.

Deep plowing therefore is in average cases to be avoided for the twofold reason that it involves diminished yields and increased expenditure to the farmer for at least one rotation.

Scientifically as well as practically, the bringing up of the subsoil to the surface is disadvantageous. As is now generally known, the fertility and yielding properties of a soil are largely regulated by the action of useful bacteria therein.

But for the presence and activity of the various micro-organisms in the land, crop production would be unprofitable, if not impossible, and consequently bacterial life may be said to constitute the very essence of fertility. Having regard to this fact, it is necessary to consider the conditions that are most conducive to bacterial activity.

Numerous searching investigations have shown that the fertilizing bacteria are much more plentiful in the surface of the regularly cultivated soil than in the lower strata. Therefore, the importance of retaining the soil that teems with bacterial life on the surface is evident and indisputable.

If this soil, in which the beneficial micro-organisms are constantly fulfilling their indispensable functions, is buried below soil in which bacteria are comparatively scarce, it is clear that unfortunate consequences must result.

On the whole, deep plowing is unprofitable and highly inadvisable on ordinary soils, but, on the other hand, subsoil stirring may be of great benefit under normal conditions.

SHALL WE USE WIDE TIRES?

To the Editor: Our county and township road clubs can do a great deal toward keeping the roads in good shape by inducing everybody to use wide tires on their heavy wagons. Hard job? Impossible? Well, maybe. But I believe if the agitation was started and a few men in each neighborhood could be induced to adopt the wide tires the advantages would soon become so evident that this use would in a very few years become universal. It might help the movement to have laws limiting the width of tires on certain classes of vehicles to three inches.—John T. Bullvell, Hancock County, Illinois.

FACTS ABOUT HYDROPHOBIA

Many think that if a dog drinks there is no possibility of rabies. This is a mistake. Sometimes the act of swallowing causes spasms, but the sight of water does not, and animals infected often drink freely.

There are two forms of the disease—the violent and the dumb.

One of the first symptoms of the former is a change in disposition, which may become morose or more amiable.

The animal is often inclined to slink away from companionship, its eyes are slightly reddened and assume a vacant, listless look.

Its attention can with difficulty be held more than a moment, when its eyes close in a sleepy manner, remaining shut some seconds. There is a morbid appetite, and all sorts of indigestible things are swallowed.

Later there is a desire to chew things, a mucous discharge from the nose, ropy secretions in mouth and throat, and the voice becomes rough and hoarse, owing to the swollen condition of the larynx.

The symptoms grow more and more violent until exhaustion overpowers. Rapid emaciation is an attendant of this disease.

The dumb form runs a much shorter course, rarely lasting more than two or three days, instead of four or five, or in extreme cases, ten days, observed in the violent form. Paralysis of the lower jaw, causing to drop, is an early and pronounced symptom.

Superstition has been much linked with this disease, and many of the popular notions are pure fancy, as that a mad dog always runs in a straight line, carries its tail closely between the legs and emits an odor readily detected.

Some pronounced symptoms may also attend harmless and curable diseases, and even the specialist must take the symptoms as a whole to determine whether or not he has a genuine case of rabies.

FARM GROWN REMEDIES

In cases of anaemia cabbage (raw) and spinach are distinctly beneficial.

Spinach is almost as valuable as lithia water in its effect on the kidneys, while the French call it "the broom of the stomach," referring to its cleansing properties.

Garlic, leeks and olives stimulate the circulation of the blood.

Lettuce and celery are both good nerve tonics, and a diet of nothing but celery is said by some physicians to be a sure cure for neuralgia and rheumatism.

The free use of this vegetable is always recomended to rheumatic patients. The frequent eating of carrots, it is said, adds to the beauty of the skin, bringing a soft, satiny quality to it. Cattlemen know that it is good for stock and country women say it forms blood.

Carrot roots mashed make an excellent poultice for inflammatory surfaces.

Watercress possesses abundant sulphur and iron and imparts these necessary constituents to the blood in the most delightful method possible.

Eaten with lemon and olive oil in the shape of salad, it is a combination of virtues that should be appropriated daily.

The old Romans used to say, "Eat cress and learn wit."

A good way to make cress salad is to mix it with young dandelion leaves or shredded cabbage and serve with French dressing.

WOMEN MAKE GOOD FARMERS

To the Editor: I am getting to know that women make first-class farmers. Some interesting cases have come under my notice and in every one the women have done better work than the husbands. All of the women farmers I know are widows, except one, and she is a "grass widow," her husband having departed between two days, leaving her a farm of 160 acres, some poor scrub stock and $1,200 of debts. Did she sit down and cry? Maybe, but she did not let anybody know it if she did. She rolled up her sleeves and sailed in to make a living for herself and the children, all of whom were under 12 years of age. She has added $1,000 to the value of the farm, paid off all the debts in four years and bought $900 worth of blooded cows. Every one of the other women I have mentioned have done as well, and some of them even better. I am convinced from my observation that most women are good farmers and haves ound business ideas, and if men would more often take the advice of their wives they would come out better in their business.—Mary T. Concrova, Kentucky.

FRAUDS ON THE FARM JOB

The other day a big, husky, splay-footed foreigner came along by our place, headed for the railroad; said he had thrown up his job because the work was too hard. "Why," he cried, "I had to get up at 5:30 and never got to bed till dark." I asked him what his job had been in Chicago. Driving a team at $14 a week and board himself. He finally admitted that when on this job he had to get up at 5 o'clock, clean, curry and harness three horses and be on the streets at 7 o'clock. If he got back to the barn at 7 in the evening he shook hands with himself. "Oh, well," he said, as he slouched off up the road, "there's somethin' doin' in town every night. Plenty of beer and shoot the chutes and music and all that." And he grinned rather sheepishly. That tells a big part of the story of the labor famine on the farm.—"Jasper" in the American Farm World.

TO KEEP CEMENT BUILDING WHITE

Cement frequently has several shades of color after it is dried. The practical way is to wash the entire surface with cement made by mixing parts of Portland cement and one part of marble dust, with sufficient water to reduce it to the consistency of whitewash, applying with a common whitewash brush. All has to be thoroughly dried for several hours previous to applying the wash and must be kept constantly wet during the work and the day after. It is decidedly important to do the work on the wet wall, as it will not adhere to a dry one

DO BEES SPREAD DISEASE?

Professor Root, the Great Expert, Declares They Do Not Spread Pear Blight.

BY E. R. ROOT, MEDINA, OHIO.

Bees have sometimes been accused of puncturing grapes, but careful examination shows that small birds with sharp beaks, conspicuously the Cape May warbler and the Baltimore oriole, will pierce the grapes early in the morning before any one is up.

The small, sharp, needlelike holes left in the berries are visited by the bees during the day, and they suck out all the pulp, leaving nothing but the shriveled skins.

Thus the bees get the credit for doing a mischief that the birds have actually made possible.

But it must not be denied that they will visit broken or partially decayed fruit. They will hover over them during a scarcity of nectar, sucking out the juices and leaving only the mere shell of the fruit.

Some fruits of this kind have a market value, and when the bees help themselves to them in a wholesale way, as they do sometimes, there is no dodging the fact that a damage is done. In that case the owner of the bees should reimburse the fruit grower.

When there is a dearth of honey the bees may be fed near the hives by giving them access to very thin sugar sirup. Means must be provided so that they will not be able to get this food too rapidly. While thus kept busily engaged taking the sirup they will not touch broken fruit.

Where peaches or pears are exposed in baskets the owner of such fruit should see to it that they are covered with mosquito netting.

Again, it used to be complained that the fruit growers sprayed their trees while in bloom. I am happy to observe that this practice has gone almost entirely out of vogue, for experiment stations everywhere have shown that as good and better results can be secured by spraying before and after bloom.

To administer the poison while the trees are in full flower is a damage to the fruit grower and to the beekeeper alike—to the first because some of the delicate parts of the blossoms are injured, killing the embryo fruit, and to the beekeeper because the bees will be poisoned in countless thousands.

The experiment stations of Ithaca, N. Y., Wooster, Ohio, and Fort Collins, Col., have issued bulletins strongly condemning the practice from the standpoint of the fruit grower.

But the charge has been made that the bees have been the means of scattering pear blight in the regions where pears are grown largely, notably in central California.

In 1901 considerable trouble arose between the pear growers and the beekeepers of Kings county, California. The feeling became very bitter between the two factions. There was talk of resorting to the courts. The question arose whether or not beekeepers could be ejected from the territory.

As president of the National Beekeepers' association I was called as an expert to look into the matter and make such recommendations to the beekeepers as might seem advisable after consulting with the fruit men.

I found that Professor Waite of the Department of Agriculture had given out the statement that bees might, and probably did spread pear blight in the vicinity.

I recommended that the beekeepers remove their bees from the vicinity at a test experiment. This was done, but the pear blight seemed to spread just as rapidly as before.

When on the ground I discovered that young pear trees that had never blossomed and which, of course, the bees had never visited, were as badly blighted as the old trees.

It also developed that there were countless myriads of insects of every sort, especially ants, that were going from the old trees to the young ones; there were certain wild bees over which man had no control, and that the removal of the tames ones did not in any wise apparently mitigate the ravages of the blight.

The beekeepers and the pear growers are living together in harmony today. If the bees help to spread the blight, as undoubtedly they do, the removal of those under the control of man does not seem to be able to mitigate the trouble.

On the other hand, the pear men seem to recognize that the bees perform a most valuable service in a cross fertilization of the blossoms.

COW STABLE FLOORS OF CEMENT

Is a cement floor desirable in a cow stable, and how would you advise me to plan my mangers and gutters?—Hanson Roberts, Chautauqua County, New York.

Cement makes an excellent floor. Do not give too much slope and use the best Portland cement and the best and sharpest sand and gravel, mixed well, three parts sand and gravel and one Portland cement. Make the surface just a little rough to prevent the cows from slipping.

THE SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

HIGH RAILWAY OFFICIALS GO THROUGH FORT WAYNE

Vice Presidents of Pennsy and Nickel Plate Heads Here Short Time.

For a brief period today some men high in railway ranks were in Fort Wayne. One party was made up of vice presidents of the Pennsylvania and some of the maintenance of way and transportation officials. They passed through the city at 1 o'clock this morning on their way to Gary, Ind., where they investigated some proposed improvements and passed through the city en route home again at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon. Their special train was composed of four private cars and a coach and en route east it ran as the second section of fast train No. 16. In the party were Vice Presidents Joseph Woods, E. B Taylor, J. J. Turner and D. T. McCabe, General Manager G. L. Peck, General Superintendent A. M. Shoyer, Assistant Chief Engineer E. G. Ericson, Division Superintendent J. B. McKim and some other officials.

General Passenger Agent B. F. Horner and Dining Car Superintendent Frank J. Moore, of the Nickel Plate, composed the other party of officials. They had been east in the interest of their respective departments and stopped off here a few hours en route to Chicago. While at the depot, awaiting the arrival of his train, Mr. Horner was visited by Engineer Joseph Haley. Forty years ago Mr. Horner was a conductor on a road running out of Buffalo and Mr. Haley was one of his brakemen. Mr. Horner said passenger business was fairly good on the Nickel Plate, with prospects of an improvement as the season advances.

DELANO EXPLAINS.

Says W. & L. E. Receivership Cannot Be Terminated.

President F. A. Delano, of the Wabash Railroad company, who was reelected at the annual meeting of the stockholders at Toledo Tuesday, despite the report that Vice President E. B. Pryor would succeed him, says the Wheeling and Lake Erie receivership cannot be terminated until business conditions become normal. President Delano states that conditions along the Wheeling and Lake Erie are far from normal now, although business improvement is slow but steady and of a kind that pleases the management.

On account of the part taken by E. H. Harriman in financing the Wheeling and Lake Erie and the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal it was generally believed that the receiverships would be terminated in the near future, but President Delano says it would still further complicate matters to hurry the receiverships to termination.

THROWN OFF BICYCLE.

Julius Kamm, a tinner at the Pennsylvania shops, sustained some painful injuries this morning by the forks of his bicycle breaking and allowing him to pitch headlong to the road. The accident occurred on the Hanna street crossing of the Pennsylvania as Mr. Kamm was en route to his work. Despite the injuries he worked today

EXCURSION PARTY SMALL.

Less Than 400 People Go to Grand Rapids.

The annual farmers' excursion from Fort Wayne and intermediate stations to Grand Rapids today was not as well attended as the officials were led to believe it would be. They expected at least 500 passengers and there were only 335 on the train when it left the last station at which passengers were taken on. Fort Wayne turned out more passengers than any other point on the line, but even here the crowd was smaller than expected. One week from today there will be a similar excursion from Grand Rapids to this city.

Two young men who recently burglarized the ticket office of the Wabash at Attica were convicted in Fountain county circuit court this week on the charge of grand larceny and sentenced to terms of from one to fourteen years in Jeffersonville reformatory. The office was robbed of $65 in cash, but the money was afterwards recovered by the company.

After a conference between Mayor Busse, of Chicago, and the higher officials of the Illinois Central road Tuesday, Mayor Busse stated that the railway would take early steps to electrify the line within the city limits in order to eliminate the smoke nuisance. The matter has been the subject of former conferences, but until last Tuesday no definite conclusion had been reached.

Well Known Actress Who Figures in Financial Troubles of a Broken Broker

EDNA WALLACE HOPPER.

New York, Oct. 15.—With her tiny feet dangling from a straight backed office chair and in a very smart wine colored corduroy suit and a picturesque maroon hat, petite Edna Wallace Hopper appeared before Commissioner Gilchrist in the Federal building to answer some questions regarding the presents given her by her dear, dear friend, A. O. Brown, of the firm bearing his name that lately suspended in Wall street.

It seems that Miss Hopper is engaged to Mr. Brown and she has been the recipient of many valuable presents from him, among which are a $7,000 motor car and a $25,000 life insurance policy.

There were many questions asked the little actress that made the color come to her cheeks, but she stoutly refused to give up any of the presents that were made her.

McCann—O'Meara.

A beautiful bride was Miss Dorothy O'Meara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. O'Meara, who was united in marriage at 9 o'clock this morning in the Church of the Precious Blood to Mr. Paul McCann, formerly of Pittsburg. Miss Mina Feese, of Bluffton, played the wedding march. Miss Vina O'Meara, of Muncie, a cousin of the bride, was maide of honor and the bride's brother, Charles O'Meara was the bridegroom's best man. The bride, who entered the church with her father, wore a beautiful gown of white chiffon taffeta over which hung a handsome lace robe. The gown was fashioned in empire style. Instead of a veil the bride wore a large white hat trimmed with plumes and an aigrette, and her flowers were bride roses. The honor maid was handsomely gowned in yellow satin empire gown and with it she wore a large hat of white trimmed with yellow plumes. The maid's flowers were yellow chrysanthemums. After the church service the bridal party and immediate relatives were served a breakfast at the home of the bride. The rooms had been prettily decorated with palms, ferns and pink and white carnations. At noon Mr. and Mrs. McCann left for Chicago and the east, where they will visit the large cities. On their return the bride and groom will be at home with Mrs. McCann's parents. Mr. McCann is a civil engineer and he is a graduate of St. Mary's college in Pittsburg. For traveling Mrs. McCann wore a tailored cloth suit in one of the season's subdued colors with a black satin hat.

City Attorney Guy Colerick and Attorney Carl Yaple were the speakers at a democratic meeting in the Ninth ward last evening, with Councilman W. A. Bayer presiding. Mr. Colerick emphasized the fact that President Roosevelt, opposed by a large proportion of his party, had been unable to secure reform laws or to induce the republican convention at Chicago to declare for them. In this contingency it is not to be expected, he said, that Mr. Taft can be more successful in the event he is elected to the presidency. Mr. Yaple's address dealt largely with state issues, and it was both forceful and well received.

Hon. B. F. Shively, of South Bend, spent last night in the city. Mr. Shively came from Bluffton, where he had addressed a democratic meeting in the evening, and left today for Lagrange.

Senator Beveridge will deliver a republican address in Fort Wayne on the evening of October 26.

On Friday evening Hon. Cyrus Cline and E. G. Hoffman will speak at Woodburn, while Phil B. Colerick and J. Macbeth Smith will be heard at the Sprankle school house in Aboit town ship.

District Chairman E. G. Hoffman addressed an audience of 500 voters at Laud, Whitley county, last evening, and was given a most cordial hearing

Information from Indianapolis is that betting odds greatly favor the democratic state ticket. It is said that $1,000 on the boards that Marshall will carry the state is untaken at even money.

Charles A. Phelps, independence party candidate for congress, carried his campaign into Whitley county today. J. W. Close, nominee for secretary of state, who is a member of the "flying wedge" party of independence workers, returned today to Chicago, to resume the activities of the campaign.

The Tippecanoe club has chartered two cars to make the trip to Kendallville Friday evening, on the occasion of Secretary Wilson's address. The cars will leave the city at 6:30 o'clock.

It is now probable that Judge Taft will spend only from twenty to thirty minutes in Fort Wayne when he comes, October 24, and he will speak briefly at the Pennsylvania depot. C. W. Miller, of Goshen, will talk to the shopmen at 11:30 o'clock on that day and will then join the Taft special for its trip through the Thirteenth district, where Mr. Miller is running for congress.

Republican meetings will be held Friday evening at Aboit Center, with Harry Hogan and Ralph Yarnelle as speakers; in Pleasant township, where W. C. Geake, Amos Houk and E. M. Hulse will speak; in the Seventh ward and in the Nebraska division of the Fifth ward, where the speaker will be C. A. Remy, of Indianapolis, former clerk of the Indiana supreme court.

Consul-General Charles Denby, of Shanghai, transmits the following concerning the shipping congestion on the Yangtse: "The growth of the shipping traffic on the Yangtse has been rapid and remarkable. Japan, the United Kingdom, France, Germany and China have each a line of steamboats on the river, and at the present time there are about 90,000 tons of merchantment engaged in the traffic."

MUNCIE MERCHANTS WILL BE SHOWN OVER CITY IN AUTOMOBILES

Local Association Plans to Entertain Guests Next Wednesday.

When one hundred or so merchants of Muncie, Indiana, arrive in this city next Wednesday morning to make a tour of the city, they will be given a reception such as is seldom the lot of such an excursion. The officers and members of the local Retail Merchants' association are making extensive plans to entertain their guests of that day, including an hour and a half's automobile ride over this city during the afternoon.

The guests will not arrive here until shortly before noon and about 2 o'clock in the afternoon they will all be piled into autos which owners have agreed to furnish for that purpose, and shown the numerous factories and interesting sites of this city. After that they will be permitted to visit wherever they wish. The Muncie merchants will leave for their homes early in the evening.

While a large number of the auto owners of the city have consented to place their machines at the disposal of the local association, there are still a few more needed and any one of the association officers will be glad to hear of any others who wish to do the same thing.

UNANSWERABLE.

Mrs. Wedsoon (pouting)—Mrs. Oldwife next door has had two new dresses to my one.

Mr. Wedsoon—Yes, my dear; but she's had two husbands to your one.

A New One.

Inexplicable.

"Napoleon continues to hold his place as a hero."

"Yes. I can't understand it. He never made a three bagger for the home team when the bases were filled and the score was tied."—Chicago Record-Herald.

No Parting There.

"No, I haven't seen Billinger for years. Does he still part his hair in the middle?"

"He can't."

"Has his hair gone?"

"Yes, to parts unknown."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Too Mild.

"That was a great purification they had in San Francisco."

"Yes; the reign of graft is over."

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 15.—A decline in the prices of wheat at Liverpool due partly to a predicted increase in shipments from Argentina caused weakness today in the local market, prices at the start being unchanged to ¼c lower. There was a slight rally early in the day on moderate demand by commission houses, but the market again became easy despite continued dry weather in the southwest and a falling off in the movement in the northwest. December opened at $1.00¾ to $1.01, sold up to $1.01¼ and then declined again to $1.00⅞. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 752 cars.

The wheat market was subjected to heavy liquidations throughout the entire session and prices steadily declined until they were about 1½c below the high point of the day. The low mark for December was reported at 99¾c. The close was weak at almost the bottom, December being down 1¼@1½c at 99¾@99¾c.

Corn was inclined to be weak, owing to renewed selling by local bulls. Receipts today were considerably more than what had been expected and this tended to depress prices. December opned a shad to ⅛@¼c lower at 63½@63⅝c and sold at 63¾c. Local receipts were 147 cars.

A sharp decline in the price of the cash grain caused a general rush on options which resulted in December selling off to 63c. The market closed weak at almost the lowest point with December off ½@⅝c at 63⅛c.

Oats opened barely steady owing to the weakness of wheat and corn, but soon became firm on buying by commission houses. December opened a shade lower at 48¼c and advanced to 48½@48⅝c.

Provisions were firm despite increased receipts of live hogs at western packing centers. An advance of 5c in live hogs here helped to bring out some demand for provisions. At the start prices were 2½c to 17½c higher.

Prices at the close were as follows:

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 15.—Prices of stocks started higher today than last night for the most part, but the gains were not material and were mingled with some losses. The demand was languid and unimportant. Northern Pacific recovered a point on its 1¾ per cent dividend. United States Rubber declined 1 point.

Northern Pacific surrendered its opening gain and the majority of other well known stocks yielded to about ½ below yesterday's closing. These losses were made up when the sellers attempted to buy back. Movement was an aimless drifting. Bethlehem Steel declined 1½.

Selling orders were encountered when prices advanced and the tone became heavy again and intensely dull. Federal Mining preferred sold at an advance of 5¾. Western Union 1¼ and New Haven 1 point. Bonds were irregular.

Atchison's rise of a point was the only feature of the midday dealings.

There was a firmer tone to the limited dealings, but the price changes were insignificant outside of inactive specialties. Mackay Companies rose 3¾, United States Express 3, American Sugar and American Beet Sugar 1¼, and Westinghouse Electric and Tennessee Copper 1 point.

The market closed strong and quite active. The upward swing of prices was extended with a considerable increase in the activity. Union Pacific rose 2¼ over last night; United States Rubber second preferred 3, Tennessee Copper 2, Atchison and Toledo, St. Louis & Western 1½, Reading, Great Northern preferred and Southern Pacific, New York Central, American Smelting and American Locomotive 1 point.

LOCAL MARKET EPITOME.

The potato market took on added life today, owing to the large number of direct consumer buyers who are taking hold of the receipts for storage purposes. They are buying them in lots of fifteen and twenty bushels and the price is firm at 70c per bushel. The receipts are heavy, but the present condition of the market will be maintained as long as the direct consumers are on the buying market.

Other receipts on only a fair market today consisted of apples, excellent quality, selling at 75c and $1.00 per bushel. The chicken market ruled dull, both young and old bringing only 9c per pound. The best quality of butter brought 22@24c per pound, while the average quality was poor and sold around the 15c mark. Fresh eggs brought 21@22c per dozen. The general price on onions is 40c per bushel, and there is a slight demand for ducks at 7@8c per pound. There were a few pumpkins on the market, selling at 5c apiece.

The retail market was not large today, with the receipts varied enough to satisfy all inquirers.

Said G. H. Crouse, of the commission house of Howenstein & Crouse, this morning: "We ought to have a good big market on Friday, owing to the new lease of life the market on potatoes has assumed, and the demands tomorrow will be particularly for that article and apples. The prices will remain the same on all lines. A good stock of onions will sell headily at 40c per bushel."

CAUSES D_BILITY

Here Are Facts Backed Up By a Strong Guarantee.

Debility is caused by catarrh. In our opinion, a person free from Catarrh was never troubled with Debility. Debility can never be cured by medicine not designed to cure Catarrh. We positively guarantee to cure Catarrh, and thus cure Debility. In every case where we fail to effect a cure, we will not charge a cent for the medicine employed during the trial. Now, surely no one should hesitate to believe us or to put our claim to a practical test under such conditions. We take all the risk; no one else can lose anything by the transaction.

We make these statements and this offer because we know and have time and again proved that Rexall Muco-Tone will cure Catarrh. It is designed for that one particular purpose. It is not a cure-all prescribed to cure every disease that flesh is heir to. It is a specific. Rexall Muco-Tone is absorbed in the stomach and carried by the blood until it penetrates every part of the body, acting as an antiseptic, disinfecting, cleansing, soothing and healing agent. It rids the system of all germ and poisonous matter, purifies and enriches the blood, rebuilds injured tissues, cleanses and invigorates the muco-cells, neutralizes the acids of the body, stops mucus discharge, tones up the entire system, promotes nutrition, increases body weight, and brings about a feeling of healthfulness that is lasting.

We have Rexall Muco-Tone in two sizes. Prices 50c and $1.00. We urge you to try a bottle on our guarantee. Meyer Bros. Co., Fort Wayne, Ind. Three big stores.

Meyer's More About Olive Oil

Olive Oil is not only valuable as a food, but it also is good for the complexion. A pint or more a week with food may be used with none but good results. Make your salad dressing almost entirely of oil, put it into everything you eat. Furthermore take a desertspoonful before each meal.

If you find it hard to take clear, add lemon or other fruit juices; milk or salt. After a while you will like it well enough to take it clear.

In the front rank stands Nice, France, as the finest Olive Oil producing country in the world. That's the reason we handle the French Oil.

WAS A VOLUNTEER FIRE CHIEF IN EARLY DAYS HERE

Joseph Fry Dies at Green Bay, Wis., After Long Illness.

Joseph Fry, who was chief of the volunteer fire department in the early days of Fort Wayne, died Wednesday at his home in Green Bay, Wis., after an extended illness from congestion of the brain. He was 68 years of age.

Mr. Fry was born in Fort Wayne, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fry. Following the death of his father Mr. Fry succeeded to a tannery business in Nebraska, which he conducted until his removal to Metropolitan, Mich., twenty-five years ago. Here he embarked in the hotel business and eight years ago removed to Green Bay, Wis., continuing the hotel business there.

The widow survives, with two sons and two daughters—Charles Fry, living in Canada; Harry Fry, residing in Manitoba, and the Misses Cecilia and Marie Fry, of Green Bay. Four sisters reside in Fort Wayne. They are Mrs. William Schiefer, Mrs. Frank Mungovan, Mrs. Anthony Golden and Miss Hattie Fry. There are two brothers, Henry Fry, of Fort Wayne and George Fry, of Columbus. Mrs. Schiefer and Mrs. Allen Hamilton, the latter a sister-in-law, have gone to Green Bay to attend the funeral service.

An "express rifle" is a gun in which is used a large charge of powder and comparatively light bullet. Such guns are used generally by hunters of large game in India and Africa for the reason that the bullet has great penetrating force with its heavy powder charge.

DR. HARDMAN, SPECIALIST

Cures Pelvic, Nervous and Chronic Diseases and Guarantees Satisfactory Results in All Cases He Accepts for Treatment

Successful Treatment Depends Upon a Thorough and Scientific Examination.

No physician can expect to CURE these CHRONIC and DEEP-SEATED diseases until he has made a thorough examination and definitely located the cause of the trouble.

The human body is much too complicated for one man to thoroughly understand every part of it.

There are too many diseases that mankind is subject to for any one physician to fully understand and treat. Hence it becomes necessary in order to accomplish the best results to take up and make a special study of a certain region or a group of diseases that by their nature are allied to one another.

There are many who are satisfied by a hasty inquiry or a superficial examination, and are blindly led into given palliative remedies, which though temporarily relieving the symptoms, ultimately discourage the sufferer, because of a recurrence of the disease. I do not treat symptoms. I CURE the disease and the symptoms disappear.

Years of experience in the treatment of PELVIC, NERVOUS and CHRONIC DISEASES have enabled me to perfect methods that will POSITIVELY CURE where the ordinary methods have failed.

Thousands of men and women are dragging out lives of suffering and torture because of some chronic or deep-seated disease that is sapping their vitality, lessening their ambitions, breaking down their nervous system and as surely ruining their chances of successfully competing with their fellow men.

In this day of active competition to attain that measure of SUCCESS for which we were intended, it is absolutely necessary that all the faculties should be unimpaired.

Nearly all NERVOUS DISEASES, including NERVOUS BREAKDOWN, are the direct result of a disease of one or more of the Pelvic Organs.

TIME PROVES ALL THINGS AND WISE PEOPLE INVESTIGATE.

If you will give me just one-half the chance with your case I will give you the CURE you have paid others for.

VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, RUPTURE, PILES, FISTULA, ETC., cured without the knife and without detention from business.

BLOOD POISON—I use only the most advanced methods in the treatment of Blood Poison and kindred diseases.

PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT—Results from inflammation. I reduce the enlargement and have been able to cure about 90 per cent of all cases.

ECZEMA and other skin diseases quickly and permanently cured.

FREE EXAMINATION—I charge you nothing for this examination and if I accept your case for treatment the door of HEALTH is open for you, no matter what your past experience may have been.

CONSULTATION AND ALL COMMUNICATIONS STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL. OFFICE HOURS, 9-12, 1-5. EVENINGS, 7-8. SUNDAY, 9-1 ONLY. WRITE OR CALL ON
